TEN CENTS A WEEK

ORGIA FOR JOHNSON

Delegation Will Unanimously Support Minnesotan.

CAST TWENTY-SIX VOTES

Democratic Convention Getting Ready for the Nomination of Rival Candidates to Taft and Sherman to New Government.

Denver, July 8.—The Georgia delegation ended their caucus at 2 p. m. and were unanimously for Johnson, except to cast 26 votes for the Minnesota candidate.

Denver, Colo., July 8.—The democratic national convention of 1908, which is to nominate candidates for offices of president and vice president of the United States in opposition to William H. Taft, of Ohio, and Charles S. Sherman, of New York, from the republican national convention nominated four weeks ago

UREY WOODSON.

Chicago, is at the point of action. In the early hours of the morning and the thousands of delegates, affiliates and spectators from all parts of the country beginning to stream toward the great auditorium which enterprise of the people of Den-has made ready for the welcome.

Respect for Mr. Cleveland.

The unusual feature of the first program was the plan to ad-

urn at an early hour as a mark of respect to the memory of the late

President Grover Cleveland, the last democrat who occupied the exalted office of chief magistrate of the nation. This adjournment, however, not expected to delay materially

the work of the convention, for Tuesday session was, as usual, planned to be preliminary in its nature; including only the call to order by the chairman of the retiring committee,

Thomas Taggart, of Indiana; the reading of the call for the convention by

Secretary Urey Woodson; the opening address by Archbishop John J. Keane

of Wyoming; the announcement of temporary convention officers selected by the national committee, and their confirmation by the convention;

the opening address of Temporary chairman Theodore A. Bell, of California, and the announcement of the several committees selected by the executive of the state delegations. The committees on credentials, permanent organization, rules and order of business, platform and resolutions will proceed with their work after the convention has taken its recess until Wednesday.

The Program.

The program for Wednesday provides for the completion of permanent organization, the address of the permanent chairman, Representative

Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, and the receipt and adoption of the reports of the committees appointed.

It is expected that the nomination of either president nor vice president will be reached before Thursday;

that day the head of the ticket will probably be nominated and the selection of the vice presidential candidate

expected to be deferred until Friday, after which the convention will adjourn. There is no reason apparent at present to expect the convention to extend beyond that day.

Opposition to Bryan.

Monday's late hours brought forth some interesting developments in the matter of the presidential nomination and were marked by increasing urgency of effort on the part of the elements opposed to William Jennings Bryan, to prevent his nomination.

There were several conferences in his behalf and the opposition showed its purpose to leave no smallest stone unturned in the search for delegates who might be prevailed upon to vote against the Nebraskan. Those who are leading this effort admit that it is in the nature of a forlorn hope; "but," they say, "forlorn hopes have been known to turn the tide of great battles."

The friends of Mr. Bryan attach much importance to the fact that Lewis Nixon was made chairman of the sub-committee on the injunction plank, while Jude Alton B. Parker, who will be the state's representative on the committee on resolutions, was given second place on the sub-committee. Mr. Nixon is known as a warm friend of Mr. Bryan and his prominence in the Tammany activities is interpreted by the Bryan people as indicating that New York in the final "show down" will support Mr. Bryan.

New York's Vote Counts.

The importance of the leadership of New York is apparent in a review of figures given out for the first time by the anti-Bryan people as setting forth the theory on which they have been working. They claim that a timely utterance of New York against Bryan would have rallied a total of 349 votes—fifteen more than enough to prevent his winning the two-thirds vote necessary for nomination. This is the strength they were counting on:

Alabama 1, Florida 7, Georgia 26, Louisiana 18, West Virginia 14, North Carolina 24, Connecticut 12, Delaware 6, Maine 11, Massachusetts 12, New Hampshire 1, New Jersey 24, New York 78, Pennsylvania 48, Rhode Island 4, Vermont 8, Minnesota 22, Ohio 12, Wisconsin 6, Alaska 6, Porto Rico 6—total 349. New York's failure to lead the stampede against Bryan was generally accepted as fatal to the hopes of his opponents; even some of the most sanguine admitting privately that it is now too late to rally an effective combination.

The Platform.

Appointment of the credentials committee brought the platform question definitely to the fore Tuesday afternoon and interest is increasing hourly in the declaration which is likely to be made on the subject of the use of injunctions and court orders in labor controversies. There is no end to the gossip on the subject and tentative planks are of almost hourly production. The real work is being done by an informal committee headed by Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, who is to be chosen chairman of the committee on resolutions. It is expected that when the committee on resolutions at last gets formally to work upon the platform, there will be conferences by telephone with Mr. Bryan at his home in Lincoln and that there will be no real difficulty in arriving at a consensus as satisfactory as a compromise ever can be to all parties in interest. There is no doubt that Mr. Bryan's views have been made plain to those who have visited him to discuss the subject.

Rolling Mills Start Up.

Birmingham, Ala., July 8.—The Henshaw Rolling Mills started up Monday after an idleness of several months. These works are the property of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company. Employment was given to 300 men. Notices were posted at the plant of the Henshaw Off Pipe plant giving work to between 300 and 500 men, that there would be a general resumption of operations Wednesday. There is a good demand for the products and big repairs about the plant have been concluded.

Ambassador Riddle Recovering.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—John W. Riddle, the American ambassador, is gradually progressing toward recovery.

FOR VICE PRESIDENCY

Clark Howell, of Georgia, Is Endorsed by

THE GEORGIA DELEGATION

Georgians Resolve to Present Editor's Name at Convention and Work for His Nomination—Delegates Opposed to Bryan.

Denver, July 8.—Georgia is against Bryan, if there is any chance of encompassing his defeat, but probably will vote for him unless it is demonstrated in the meantime that a decided stand in opposition can be made. This position of the delegation was announced at the conclusion of the caucus.

It was said that Georgia came to Denver expecting to find an anti-Bryan standard about which they could gather with other opposing delegations the uninstructed delegations from New York having been looked forward to as among the opposition factors. Finding New York inactive, however, the delegation has practically announced that it will not be "left alone in a wilderness."

The delegation enthusiastically endorsed Clark Howell for the vice presidency, and determined to present his name to the convention and to start an active campaign in his behalf. Mr. Howell also was named to succeed himself on the national committee.

The Georgia delegation will meet again when some definite plan of action may be made. A representative of Judge Gray has been invited to appear before the caucus to present the claims of Delaware's candidate for the presidency.

W. S. West, who was first selected as the state's representative on the committee to notify the presidential nominee, declined the office on the ground that he "refused to notify Bryan."

TAFT KEEPING BUSY.

Divides His Time Between Golf Links and Political Callers.

Hot Springs, Va., July 8.—William H. Taft spent Tuesday in political conferences and sport on the golf links.

Senator Hemenway, of Indiana, who reached here on the midnight train, talked matters over with Representative Burton, of Ohio, conferred with Judge Taft concerning the chairmanship of the national republican party and conditions in Indiana generally.

Mr. Hemenway's name has been mentioned in connection with the chairmanship.

Revolutionary Outbreak.

Washington, July 8.—A revolutionary movement has broken out against the government of Honduras. Senor Ugarte, the minister here, received word that the town of Gracias, about twenty miles from the Salvadorean border, has been taken by a force coming, presumably, from Salvador. It has a garrison of forty or fifty men and its population is about 1,000.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS AFFAIR.

Remarkable Tragedy Occurs at Vincennes, Ind.

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Vincennes, Ind., says:

Miss Mayme Baker, twenty years of age, is dead, and Charles Ingle, forty years of age, is mortally wounded as the result of a remarkable tragedy in the girl's home.

Mrs. Ollie Youngblood Ellis, a cousin of the girl killed, admits, it is alleged, that she fired all the shots and says she was trying to drive away Ingle, who, in a fit of rage, had seized Miss Baker, threatening her with bodily harm.

Mystery surrounds the details of the affair and the stories of the wounded man and the woman do not agree. Ingle insists he was only attempting to warn the woman, who, he says, had embezzled his sister's husband, to leave town, and he claims the shooting was without provocation. The bullets which ended Miss Baker's life were aimed at Ingle, who, Mrs. Ellis says, at the time had the girl in his grasp.

Ingle was taken to the jail on suspicion that he had killed the girl, and despite prompt treatment of his wounds, the surgeons hold out no hope for his recovery.

The story of a supposed wrong to a sister, which Ingle sought to avenge upon the woman, his visit of warning to the two Mrs. Ellis' defense of her cousin and the resultant tragedy is a remarkable one, and the sister's husband, Richard Lovejoy, was locked up pending a full investigation by the police.

Lovejoy, who is a contracting carpenter, is alleged to have been in the house where the shooting took place at the time of the tragedy.

MANY VICTIMS OF HEAT.

Scores Were Prostrated in New York City.

New York, July 8.—Insofar as it was able New York's tenement house population slept out of doors Monday night. After a day whose scorching heat had struck down fully four-score of the Greater City's dwellers, and had directly or indirectly caused the death of twelve persons, the densely populated east side sections, as night settled down oppressively, emptied themselves out into every space available.

Thousands moved their beds to the roofs or fire escapes, thousands more fled to the parks and slept on the benches or stretched themselves out on the grasses, while hordes of the dwellers near the rivers flocked to recreation piers for relief from the furnace-like streets and the almost even-like temperature of the average tenement room.

The day was marked by a maximum temperature of 92, registered by the official recording instrument. This figure, was taken at the top of one of the city's tallest buildings, and high as it was, afforded little idea of the torrid atmosphere close to the sun-baked pavements, where the mercury registered 100 degrees at mid-afternoon in numerous tubes.

There was no relief in the way of showers, and the breezes of the day in the city proper were scant and of little cooling power. The beaches were crowded all day, and even more densely populated at night by seekers for refreshing air currents.

Two persons were driven insane by the heat. One, Frank Marinero, jumped from a second-story window, and was instantly killed.

Will Vote for Gray.

Denver, July 8.—The New Jersey delegates decided today, after a heated argument, to vote for George Gray, of Delaware, for president. They also decided to vote under the unit rule. Robert Hudepeth was elected member of the national committee and James Hadia, Jr., was chosen to represent the state on the committee on resolutions.

Russian Official Stabbed.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—Judge N. S. Kreichenikov, president of the superior court of St. Petersburg, was stabbed in the breast at Vetrovskaya, whether he had gone to try political prisoners. His assistant escaped.

FIREMEN KEPT ON RUN

Three Fires in One Night Occur in Washington, D. C.

TWENTY HORSES PERISHED

Many Firemen Sustained Injuries and the Damage to Property is Considerable—Man Fell Through Skylight into Bear's Den.

Washington, July 8.—Most of the city was left in peril while the fire department worked on three conflagrations that broke out from auspicious origin in different parts of the city Monday night, resulting in minor injuries to firemen, the death of twenty horses and property damage of upward of $80,000.

The principal losses were:

The Haines department store, on Eighth and Ninth streets, Southeast; the Virginia stables, Forty-fifth and C street, Northwest; the Ballinger & Gray commission house, 925 Louisiana avenue, Northwest, and the adjoining storage and packing house of C. H. Javins.

During the excitement at the commission house fire, N. D. McCarthy, a saloon proprietor, fell through a skylight and landed in a den in which a large black bear was confined, but was quickly rescued.

FIGHT AT CHURCH.

Father Fatally Wounded and Two Sons Shot.

Tifton, Ga., July 8.—A. Conger, one of the most prominent farmers of the western part of Tift county, was shot and fatally wounded and his two sons, Abraham and Barney, seriously wounded at Salem church, five miles west of Tifton, by Dempsey and Jesse Taylor.

The difficulty grew out of trouble of a year's standing between Congers and the Taylors, when they had rented a crop on Conger's place. In the justice's court at Ty Ty Saturday Conger was a party to a suit against the Taylors and the disagreement which led up to the shooting grew out of this lawsuit.

The Taylors came to the church and called Conger out of Sunday school, but after some words went away. After Sunday school they returned and some hot words, it is said, passed between them and Conger, when the elder Conger struck Dempsey Taylor over the head with a stick and Taylor drew his revolver and commenced firing at him. One shot struck Conger in the forehead, but glanced, inflicting only a scalp wound. Another struck him in the right breast and another in the left breast, within an inch of the heart. Conger then dodged under the buggy in which the Taylors were sitting, and Taylor fired on him again, this bullet striking him near the hip and passing upward through his stomach and inflicting injuries which caused his death.

Jesse Taylor shot Barney Conger through the thigh and Ab through the arm, breaking the bone. At first, the young Congers and Jesse and Will Taylor tried to act as peacemakers until the shooting began. The Taylors left soon afterwards and have not been arrested, although it is understood that they are ready to surrender. The elder Conger was the only one fatally hurt.

Police Prevent Duel.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—The duel arranged between M. Markoff, a resolutionist deputy, and Oulip Y. Pergament, deputy from Kherson, as the outcome of a quarrel in the drama a few days ago, which was to have been fought at an early hour Tuesday in the woods a short distance outside the city, was prevented by the police.

Monument to Joel Chandler Harris. Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—A meeting has been called in the city hall here to organize a national movement for the erection of a monument to the late Joel Chandler Harris. It is proposed to call for subscriptions from all parts of the United States and an appeal will be prepared for general circulation through the country.

THE BALL TEAM IS NOW ASSURED

Citizens Subscribe Liberally to the Venture.

BE NAMED OAK HALLS

New Team Will Be All That Backing and Judgment Can Make It—Up to the Citizens Now Encourage Them.

Gainesville is to have an up-to-date ball organization of semi-professionals which will compare with the best Oak Halls, and if such can be made it will try to excel and gain laurels for the old name which will take up.

Acting upon the impulse that we had something during the summer months to entertain the people, G. W. Davis and C. R. Layton were yesterday busily engaged in getting subscriptions for the project.

They were successful to the extent that they have enough subscribed to the boys on a substantial footing. It will require only the efforts of our citizens to maintain one of the best teams to be found in the State. The old Oak Halls have done a great deal to advertise us and have won laurels to the city for which they never received the slightest encouragement at times, but we think the public-spirited citizens will lend a helping hand to the new organization which will take them through the summer victorious with all teams that meet their way.

Gave Delightful Banquet.

The Young Men's Club, composed of several of the leading younger set of the city, tendered a banquet to their young lady friends last night at their club rooms over Broome's store, the party being chaperoned by Mrs. W. Those present were: Misses Pearl Colson, Lucia Patton, Melmer Miller, Montiere Fagan, Leo Baker, Eugenia Fagan, Fannie Baker, Ella Louise Vidal, Alice Bowers, and Masters Gibbs Chesnut, Henry Baker, Alexander Harper, Thos. Dean, Josie Shands, Giles Means, Dalton Rosborough, Hardie Jarvis.

BEAUTIFUL STORY OF DOMESTIC LOVE

Mark Twain began his brilliant literary career as a reporter on one of the Western newspapers.

His first stories were not always humorous; some were full of tender pathos and beauty.

The following story of "Domestic Love" was one of his first efforts, and is not only sweet and exquisitely tender, but points an admirable moral.

It paints the loving, trusting wife in adorable colors, giving to her the attributes possessed by the angels.

The story reads as follows:

After having been married some weeks, it came into the head of a young husband in this city one Sunday, when he had but little to occupy his mind, to suggest to his wife that they should plainly and honestly state the faults that each had discovered in the other since they had been man and wife. After some hesitation the wife agreed to the proposition, but stipulated that the rehearsal should be made in all sincerity and with an honest view to the bettering of each other, as otherwise it would be of no use to speak of the faults to which marriage had opened their eyes. The husband was of the same mind, and his wife asked him to begin with her faults. He was somewhat reluctant, but his wife insisted that he was the first to propose the matter, and if he was at the head of the house it was his place to take the lead. Thus urged, he began the recital. He said:

"My dear, one of the first faults I observed after we began keeping house was that you a good deal neglected the tinware. You didn't keep it scoured as bright as it should be. My mother always took great pride in her tinware, and kept it as bright as a dollar."

"I am glad that you mentioned it, dear," said the wife, blushing a little; "hereafter you shall see no speck on cup or pan. Pray proceed."

"I have also observed," said the husband, "that you use your dish-rags a long time before washing them, and then finally throw them away. Now, when at home, I remember that my mother always used to wash out her dish-rags when she was done using them, and then hang them up where they could dry, ready for the next time she would need them."

Blushing as before the young wife promised to amend this fault.

The husband continued with a most formidable list of similar faults, many more than we have space to enumerate, when he declared that he could think of nothing more that was worthy of mention.

"Now, my dear," said he, "you begin and tell me all the faults you have observed in me since we have been married."

The young housewife sat in silence; her face flushed to the temples, and a great lump came in her throat, which she seemed to be striving hard to swallow.

"Proceed, my dear; tell me all the faults you have observed in me, sparing none."

Arising suddenly from her seat the little wife burst into tears, and throwing both arms about her husband's neck, cried:

"My dear husband, you have not a fault in the world. If you have even one, my eyes have been so blinded by my love for you that so long as we have been married I have never once observed it. In my eyes you are perfect, and all that you do seems to me to be done in the best manner and just what should be done."

"But, my dear," said her husband, his face reddening and his voice growing husky with emotion, "just think, I have gone and found all manner of faults with you. Now, do tell me some of my faults. I know I have many—ten times as many as you ever had or ever will have. Let me hear them."

"Indeed, husband, it is as I tell you; you have not a single fault that I can see. Whatever you do seems right in my eyes; and now that I know what a good-for-nothing little wretch I am, I shall at once begin the work of reform, and try to make myself worthy of you."

"Nonsense, my dear; you know that sometimes I go away and leave you without any wood cut; I stay up town when I ought to be at home; I spend my money for drinks and cigars when I ought to bring it home to you;—"

"No you don't," cried his wife. "You do nothing of the kind. I like to see you enjoy yourself; I should be unhappy for you to do otherwise than just exactly as you do!"

"God bless you, little wife," cried the now thoroughly subjugated husband; "from this moment you have not a fault in the world! Indeed, you never had a fault in the world; I was but joking—don't remember a word I said!" and he kissed away the tears that still trembled in the little woman's eyes.

Never again did the husband scrutinize the tinware nor examine the dish-rag—never so much as mention one of the faults he had enumerated; but soon after the neighbor women were wont to say:

"It is wonderful how neat Mrs. — keeps everything about her house. Her tinware is always as bright as a new dollar, and I do believe she not only washes, but irons, her dish-rags!" And the neighbor men were heard to say: "What a steady fellow Mr. — has got to be of late; he doesn't spend a dime where he used to spend dollars, and can never be kept from home half an hour when he is not at work." He seems to worship that wife of his."

Prince Helle has expressed the opinion that he and his bride will be able to live on her $300,000 a year. At any rate, that's a whole lot more than Helle has been accustomed to spending.

A Frenchman has invented a gun that shoots 1,200 a minute. With a weapon of that kind in action any number of innocent bystanders could get theirs without wasting much time.

A Pittsburg man has just married a young woman with whom he became acquainted when he returned her lost dog. Every time the couple have a quarrel the man will very likely feel like kicking the dog.

There are many people wanting to know what Roosevelt will do at the close of his Presidential term, but a much larger majority is wondering if there is anything at all he will not do if he happens to think of it.

Tom Watson ought to be a very happy man. He took up Hoke Smith's crowd two years ago and walloped Clark Howell and his creed; and only recently he took up Clark Howell and his creed and walloped Hoke Smith and his crowd. That's going some, isn't it?

A New York foreign resident shot himself the other day because he had not been able to master the English language after studying it thirteen years. There are millions of us in this country who have studied it thrice that length of time without mastering it, but we are still contented to live and to make ourselves heard, if not always understood, in the greatest language ancient or modern.

THE TROUBLE IN PANAMA.

There has been some criticism in this country, and there will doubtless be more criticism in the Central and South American States, of the action of President Roosevelt in sending marines to Panama about the time of the election of a new president in that country, but it cannot be denied that we are within our rights in taking marines to preserve the peace and insure a fair election. It is provided by the Panama constitution that the Government of the United States of America can intervene in any part of the Republic of Panama for the purpose of establishing the public peace and constitutional order in event of the same having been disturbed. Moreover, by a special treaty between this country and Panama, this constitutional provision is confirmed and interference is permitted whenever "in the judgment of the United States, the Republic of Panama should not be able to maintain order." Happily, there is no prospect now that there will be any need for the interference of this Government in Panama. True, we have a thousand marines there, but their attitude will probably be that of a police force. The fact that we have such a force on the ground is a strong guarantee that public order will not be disturbed and it also is a guarantee that there shall be a free vote and an honest count at the final election on the 12th of July. We have vast interests in Panama and the people of that country know it. They also know that if armed interference should become necessary, their existence as an independent country would probably come to a sudden end.

A COMPARISON.

Governor Broward declines to reinstate Sheriff Jackson, whom he removed from office several months ago. Jackson has, however, been since nominated by a primary election vote, and will be reinstated by the voters on November 3d.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

That's just like Broward. He refuses to recognize the will of the Democratic party. He was himself once removed from the office of sheriff, and when he appealed to the people of his county he was "reinstated." Better keep "an eye to the windward," Captain (Governor). We "Old Sea Dogs" can always ferret something out of the clouds that overhang the horizon.

How long, oh, how long will the people of the United States suffer the imposition of trusts in the shape of express companies carrying our mail matter at, at least, ten times the cost that such matter is carried in European countries, thus robbing the Post-office Department of its most valuable patronage and robbing the people of billions of pennies? Ex-Postmaster-General Wamamaler said there were four reasons why the people of this country could not have a parcels post. These four reasons were the four great express companies of the United States. We have the highest postage rate of any country in the world for special communication, and we can make no use of postal facilities in conveying packages of moderate weight. We can send a package to Australia cheaper than we can send it from one State to another in our own country. It is a well-known fact that every improvement in facilities among a people increases the general wealth and intelligence and the converse is also true: that every barrier placed in the way of trade or communication is at the expense of enlightenment and of revenue, public and private.

MASSACRES IN KOREA.

Hundreds Murdered by Insurgents and So-Called Patriots.

Seoul, June 15, via San Francisco July 7.—Nearly one thousand Koreans have been murdered by the Korean insurgents and so-called patriots within the last few months.

These Koreans were all members of the Il Ching Hoi, a pro-Japanese society. Most of the Koreans murdered by their fellow countrymen were peaceful, hard-working men whose only crime seems to have been opposition to the disturbing element in the country and friendliness to the Japanese protectorate.

In addition to those murdered there have been a number of cases of cruelty and hardship.

The actual statistics carefully collected and in every case verified, show that since the Japanese protectorate of Korea commenced nine hundred and twenty men of the Il Ching Hoi have been murdered by the Korean insurgents, three hundred and sixty houses have been burned, involving a loss of about $50,000.

The revolution in Korea is gradually being driven into a corner. The scattered bands of rioters are being rounded up and either forced into surrender or their activities effectually stopped. The course taken by the government in the last rigorous campaign instituted against the disturbing element is approved by the people of the country, both foreign and native.

General Judiciary.

After being loaded down with twenty-odd amendments, calling for one thing and another, and several substitutes, that bill by Mr. Foster, of Cobb which allows personal representatives of the deceased killed by homicide, to sue for damages, was favorably reported by the house general judiciary committee, after being stripped of all amendments except one, to which Mr. Foster agrees.

FLORIDA NEWS..

Business men have organized a business men's association.

Turner of Tampa has invented a fire-proof metal shutter, which is to be a profitable success.

The last meeting of the board of works of Pensacola a resolution was unanimously adopted, petitioning the city council for an appropriation of $2,000 to be used in making an experiment with petroleolithic oil paving.

Movement is on foot whereby a machine can secure an immense factory, second to none in the state.

A firm of well-known cigar manufacturers will agree to establish a factory and furnish employment for more than 200 men, provided that the city will furnish a suitable site.

Savannah and Brunswick are agitating the advisability of a hard-surfaced road between the two cities and Jacksonville. It is estimated that such a road, 175 miles long, would bring tourists up from Florida in the summer of a season, who would make the trip simply for the pleasure of the ride.

Offer of E. M. Kean, the contractor, to increase the flow of Jacksonville artesian wells 1,000,000 gallons for the sum of $1,000 was voted by the board of bond trustees of that city. His method for increasing the flow is a secret, but declares it entirely practicable, and guarantees that it will not injure the wells.

Hopkins was shot and mortally wounded by Chief of Police Sanders, when the latter headed a detachment of officers in raiding a gambling establishment in the northeast section of Pensacola. The crowd in the street had congregated under some trees, and the officers made a charge upon them. Chief Sanders got into the line of fire and was holding a revolver when some of the men whom the officers attempted to arrest began firing. The chief drew his revolver, and at the same time Hopkins attempted to break away from the grasp of the officer. In the scuffle the revolver was discharged, the bullet passing through Hopkins' lungs.

Another cigar factory has been opened in Lakeland, making two of the largest institutions now in operation here. J. E. Swanson, owner of the new Side Hotel, has recently purchased a cigar factory in the new business block, and has engaged competent and experienced help with which to carry on the business. The new Havana Cigar Company, under the management of E. L. Leonard, has been in operation in that city for a year, and has built up an excellent and lucrative business. Lakeland is fast forging to the front, and more many years will be known as one of the leading manufacturing cities of Florida. The recent opening of the first wholesale grocery house has already proven a paying investment, as orders have been constantly coming in, both from the city and the surrounding towns.

The members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in Jacksonville have determined to have erected before the first of August.

BLUE WOMEN

Women should understand that melancholia, commonly called "the blues," is in nine times out of ten a sure symptom of some serious female organic derangement and should have immediate attention.

Women whose spirits are depressed, and who are ailing and miserable, should rely upon

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

as evidenced by following letters.

Mrs. F. Ellsworth, of Mayville, N. Y., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For three years I was in an awful despondent and nervous condition caused by female troubles. I was not contented anywhere, and was in such constant fear that something terrible was going to happen that it seemed as though I should lose my mind. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored my health, and I cannot say enough for it."

Mrs. Mary J. Williams, of Bridgeport, Ill., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I have been suffering from a female trouble, backache and headaches, and was so blue that I was simply in despair. I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure to tell you that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me. The change in my appearance is wonderful, and I wish every suffering woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache. Why don't you try it?

of the year a handsome club building and in furthering that end a very desirable site has been procured. However, after looking about the city for a suitable location for the building, the committee came to the conclusion that the Seeba lot offered unequalled advantages. A deal was consummated whereby Mr. Seeba receives $10,000 for the lot. The lot is fifty-five feet on Monroe street and has a depth of 105 feet. It is located directly across the street from the south entrance to the Windsor Hotel. The Eagles will erect upon the property a fine club building which will cost approximately $25,000. Work on the erection of the building will be started within sixty days, and before January 1 the Eagles hope to be in their new home. About the middle of this month a picnic will be given for the benefit of the building fund, the date and place to be decided upon within a few days. With the addition of the Eagles' building, Hemming park will have club homes on three of its corners.

PICNIC BIG SUCCESS.

The Masons of Melrose On the Lake Have Pleasant Gathering.

Melrose, June 8.—The Masonic picnic on July 8th was quite a success, about 250 people being present, notwithstanding the many other picnics advertised in the neighborhood. A short shower just at noon caused the dinner to be spread in the town hall, and a most bountiful dinner it was, too, both in quality and quantity. Late in the afternoon Craig & Jackson ran an excursion on the lake.

Melrose Lodge 89, F and A. M., had a busy day, holding two sessions to confer the second and third degrees on ten candidates. The lodge was honored by the presence of E. N. Holt and W. S. LaMee from Green Cove Springs and G. W. DeSha, Jas. B. Cone of Waldo, who rendered valuable assistance in the work.

Mrs. Jennie Hicks, nee Dawley, died after a long and painful illness on Friday, and was buried in Elham cemetery Saturday morning. Rev. Barr officiating at the service in the church and at the grave. Mrs. Hicks was born in St. Joe county, Mich., on June 17, 1849, and was married to Albert C. Hicks in 1872. They came to Florida from Kalamazoo about five years ago. Mrs. Hicks has been a constant and earnest member of the Methodist Church for nearly twenty years.

C. P. Huffman left Monday for a visit to friends in Churchtown, Pa.

Roy Barnett is visiting his mother, Mrs. M. J. Barnett.

On and after July 6th, the mail will leave Melrose at 7:30 a. m. instead of 6:15 a. m., a fact which is much appreciated by all.

By some mysterious means the pavilion formerly over the old town well, transferred itself on Sunday night to the new town pump, its proper place.

THE SUMMER TERM

South Florida Normal Institute Will Open on Monday, July 27.

Dear Friend: Permit me to call your attention to the special summer term of the South Florida Normal Institute, beginning July 27th, and running up to the September examination. This is the opportunity for those who have no certificate to make one in September. This is the chance for those holding third grade to go to second grade, those holding second grade to go to first grade, and those holding first grade to go on to a State certificate. Next year an additional study will be added, making the examination that much harder to pass. The same text books from which the June examination was taken will be used for the September examination.

Arrangements have been made with the State Superintendent to hold an examination for State certificates at the close of this special term. This is your chance to complete your State work. Do not miss this chance.

Terms—Tuition is six dollars for the six weeks, board $12.50 per month.

In conclusion, permit me to say that I have on file more applications for senior high school principals than I can fill. Come and fit yourself for one of these positions.

For further particulars, address P. W. Corr, A. B., Principal, Dade City, Fla.

Address till July 24, P. W. Corr, A. B., Prof. Rhetoric State Normal, Gainesville, Fla.

Organizers and Promoters of American Promoters Denounce Statement.

Editor Sun: You will please permit me space to correct the statement made in this morning's paper under the caption "Colored People Attention."

The writer intended to call attention to the necessity of colored people carrying life insurance, and offered the names of the companies represented as most reliable.

If the writer had stopped there, after setting forth the merits of these companies, we would accept it as good advice, but the reference that he made to certain "graffers" going over the State organizing colored lodges, under the pretense that they are a branch of the "Woodmen of the World," a white fraternal organization, is an erroneous falsehood.

The American Woodmen is a separate and distinct secret organization; organized in the State of Colorado, a chartered institution, offering heavy life insurance to colored people of sound health and of a good moral character, with a reasonably low premium, that will give its members protection in case of death. Mr. J. W. Marshall's intention evidently was to advance the interest of his company by misrepresenting a society whose object is the same as his own.

S.S.S. HEALS SORES AND ULCERS

Sores and Ulcers are indications of impure blood. They show that the circulation has become infected with germs and poisons, which are being constantly discharged into the open place to irritate the delicate nerves, tissues and surrounding flesh and keep the sore in a state of inflammation and disease. Whether these impurities in the blood are the result of some debilitating sickness, an old taint from a former disease, or whether it is hereditary bad blood, there is but one way to cure sores and ulcers, and that is to purify the blood. Washes, salves, lotions, etc., are often beneficial because of their cleansing, antiseptic effects, but nothing applied to the surface can reach the blood, where the real cause is, and therefore cannot cure. S. S. S. is the remedy for sores and ulcers of every kind. It gets down to the very bottom of the trouble and removes every trace of impurity or poison, and makes a lasting cure. S. S. S. changes the quality of the circulation, so that instead of feeding the diseased parts with impurities, it nourishes and heals the irritated, inflamed flesh and causes the ulcer to fill in with healthy tissue by supplying it with pure, rich blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

Dykes Bill to Impose Penalty Upon Telegraph Companies.

Atlanta, July 8.—As a starter for the week the house Monday morning passed the Dykes bill, as amended, imposing a penalty of $25 upon telegraph companies for failure to transmit and deliver promptly all messages entrusted to them; voted to refund to Carroll Daniel, of Pulaski county, $224.22 earned by him as a convict, during a service of eleven months and three days, when he was illegally held.

The special order to take up the McMichael measure, which will change the composition of the state board of education, did not materialize and the house took up the regular order of business throughout the session.

The income and inheritance tax bill of Mr. Wright, of Floyd, was read and referred to a subcommittee composed of Messrs. Perry of Hall, Persons of Monroe, and Dean of Floyd.

All bills relating to changes in the election laws were referred to a subcommittee composed of Messrs. Perry of Hall, Hall of Bibb, Hines of Baldwin, Hardman of Jefferson, and Smith of Campbell.

Another free pass measure was favorably reported Monday afternoon, when the special judiciary committee of the house placed its stamp of approval upon the bill by Mr. McCarthy, of Chatham, which makes it legal for common carriers to issue passes to pensioned employees of the road, still on the payroll of the carriers.

That is the second exception so far favorably reported, the other being that bill which would allow firemen and policemen to ride free.

This committee took up a number of local bills which were favorably reported.

BEGIN WORLD JOURNEY.

Battleship Fleet Leaves San Francisco for Long Voyage.

San Francisco, July 8.—A splendid picture of America's fighting strength on the sea was presented when the sixteen battleships of the Atlantic fleet, led by the magnificent Connecticut, with Rear Admiral Charles S. Perry on the bridge, headed out of the Golden Gate and bathed their bows in the blue Pacific.

In imposing array they passed beyond the headlands, out of the view of the thousands of cheering watchers on shore and started fairly on the long voyage through five seas from San Francisco to Hampton Roads—a striking demonstration of the power and efficiency of the United States navy.

Sixteen battleships were in the line, divided into four divisions, and two squadrons.

The battleships which sailed on the longest voyage ever undertaken by such a powerful fleet during which they will completely encircle the globe from Hampton Roads to Hampton Roads, have a total tonnage of 196,100 tons. The fleet is capable of steaming on an average of ten knots an hour under any sea conditions, and is following an itinerary which will bring the ships to Manila on Oct. 1, 1908.

The complete route from Manila to Hampton Roads has not yet been definitely announced, but it is expected that the fleet will arrive at its ultimate destination during the latter part of February, 1909.

MINERS HOLD MEETING.

Many Additions May Be Made to the Ranks of the Union.

Birmingham, Ala., July 8.—Reports reaching the city from different parts of the Alabama mining section are to the effect that meetings are being held by coal miners looking to joining the union. More than two hundred men were discharged Monday for talking unionism and suggesting joining the organization again and work was stopped at a few places.

A mass meeting attended by between two and three hundred miners was held at Pratt City. The leaders of the union are saying very little but express the belief that many of the miners in the state will join the organization and participate in the strike which was called Monday.

No indications yet have shown up that there will be any disorder though the discharge of men may bring about ill feeling. The sheriff continues to appoint deputies where the same are requested by the coal companies.

THE MEXICAN REVOLT.

Movement Appears to Have Its Seat at Mexicali.

San Diego, Cal., July 8.—A special to the union from El Centro, Cal., says:

The outbreak of the Mexican revolutionary movement appears to have its seat at Mexicali, a typical frontier town just across the border from Calexico. The Mexicali people fear that the revolutionists will make an attack upon the town and attempt to capture the custom house and postoffice. Extra forces of rurales patrol Mexicali. All shops were ordered closed. An attack on the Mexicali postoffice by supposed revolutionists was repulsed.

The robbers escaped to the American side, but it is reported that they have been reinforced and will make another attempt.

FANTAN AT MACAO.

Gambling Houses of the Monte Carlo of the East.

Macao, a Portuguese-Chinese port at the mouth of the Canton river, in China, is the Monte Carlo of the east. One must wait until evening to see the famous "fanten" houses. The interiors are brilliantly lighted with oil lamps (for Macao boasts neither electricity nor gas) and furnished with costly Canton blackwood elaborately carved and upholstered in velvet. There are two floors. The coolly class remains on the ground floor, where the actual games take place, but in the room above, immediately over the table in the room below, there is a square "well" with a rail around it and a narrow table furnished with betting books and pencils, cigarettes, etc.

The visitor may take a seat and look down at the game, which really seems fair and simple. A man sits at the head of the table with a huge heap of brass "cash" before him and a slender wand in his hand. He takes up a handful of the coin and puts it on the table, covering it with a brass hat. Then the betting begins, the bets being laid on the number 1, 2, 3 or 4, after which the banker takes up the hat and counts out the cash in four, separating them with his cane, the number left when the last "four" is removed being the subject of the betting. These houses, numerous as they are, make an enormous income and are a source of large revenue to Macao.—Exchange.

Starved to Death

Is what could truthfully be said of many children who die. They have worms, poor little things—they don't know it and you don't realize it. If your child is cross, fretful, pasty complexioned and loses weight for no apparent reason, give it White's Cream Vermifuge—you will be surprised at the results and how quickly it picks up. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

What Displeased Him.

Two hunters were making their way across a lush meadow after a rain. The ground was moist and soggy, but their feet by quick stepping could be prevented from sinking more than ankle deep.

Suddenly the one in advance disappeared up to his neck in a narrow stream that, owing to the luxuriant growth on the bank, he had observed only as he stepped into it. With difficulty he pulled himself out and began wringing the water from his garments. "Well, darn a country," he remarked, with feeling, "where they set their creeks up edgewise and hide 'em in the grass."—Philadelphia Ledger.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.

Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

JAPANESE PAGODAS.

Enormous Pendulums Render These Old Structures Earthquake Proof.

The only old structures in Japan which seem to be earthquake proof are the pagodas, which were erected before the temples. There are many which are 700 or 800 years old and as solid as when first built.

There is a reason for this, and it lies in their construction. A pagoda is practically a framework of heavy timbers which starts from a wide base and is in itself a substantial structure, but rendered still more stable by a peculiar device. Inside the framework and suspended from the apex is a long, heavy beam of timber two feet thick or more. This hangs from one end of the four sides. Four more heavy timbers, and if the pagoda be very lofty still more timbers, are added to these. The whole forms an enormous pendulum, which reaches within six inches of the ground.

When the shock of an earthquake rocks the pagoda the pendulum swings in unison and keeps the center of gravity always at the base of the framework. Consequently the equilibrium of the pagoda is never disturbed, and this is the explanation of the great age of many of them, when from their height one would suppose them to be peculiarly susceptible to the effects of the earthquake.

France and Fourteen.

So far as France is concerned, it is the number fourteen that has played a conspicuous and portentous part in her history. On May 14, 1554, the Rue de la Ferrière was enlarged by order of Henri II., and four times fourteen years later Henri IV. was assassinated there by Ravallac—namely, on May 14, 1610. Henri had lived four times fourteen years, fourteen weeks and four times fourteen days—that is, fifty-six years and five months. Then Henri's son, Louis XIII., died May 14, 1643, the same day and month as his father. And 1643 added together equals fourteen, just as 1553, the year of the birth of Henri IV., equals fourteen. Louis XIV. ascended the throne 1643, which, added together, equals fourteen, and similarly the year of his death (1715) equals fourteen.—London P. T. O.

Kept Them All on Edge.

One of the favorite devices of Lord Nelson when ships were cruising in company was to signal to a given craft that Lieutenant Smith or Staff Engineer Brown or Captain of Marines Jones was to take charge, on the assumption that all his superior officers on board had been put out of action. The author of "Trafalgar Re-fought" says that the result was very good, for no one knew when he might be called upon to take command, and every one therefore made a point of trying to make himself fit to carry out the duty should it ever be assigned to him.

ARAM'S LIFE.

Remarkable Career of This Famous Murderer.

SCHOLAR AND A SCOUNDREL

Hero of Bulwer's Novel and Poem Was Really a Vile Criminal Who Abandoned Wife and Children and Knew No Remorse.

Artemus Aram, the scholar and murderer who inspired two of the masterpieces of English literature—Hood's "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" and Bulwer's novel—was hanged at the gallows on June 6, 1756.

He was born in 1704 in York. By the time he was fourteen he was regarded in the neighborhood as a prodigy of learning. His father, for piety and gentleness as a man, spread, and as a result he was sent to Knaresborough to open a school in 1734. There a strange development took place in Aram's character. He formed an association with a drinking, turbulent crowd of men, the opposite of himself, among them being a man named Clark, who kept a little coffee shop, and Richard Houseman, a dressmaker.

In 1745 Clark married a woman with a fortune of $1,000. Immediately after the wedding the companions devised a plan to rob her and her friends. Aram was to obtain all the goods he could on credit and hand them over to Clark and Houseman, who were to deposit them in a safe place. Then after the plunder Clark was to die, leaving his wife to shift for herself, and the property was to be sold and divided among the three men.

Aram went about procuring a wide variety of articles on credit. He pretended he was about to give a great dinner and borrowed silver plates, glasses, spoons, etc., from his neighbors. As fast as the different articles were obtained, Aram, accompanied by Clark and Houseman, carried them to a place called St. Robert's cave.

When Clark had "borrowed" about everything valuable his acquaintances were to lend, the plotters decided it was time for him to disappear. So in the early morning of Feb. 8, 1745, he, Aram and Houseman went to the cave to divide the spoils before Clark left. Aram and Clark had quarreled a good deal during the progress of predatory operations. At the entrance to the cave the quarrel was renewed, and Aram pushed Clark away and rained down tremendous blows on his head and chest. Clark fell dead.

Houseman, terrified at the sight and the sound of the blows, turned and ran away. Aram did not show a particle of remorse or fear. He gathered up the booty and carried it to his house, where he buried part of it in the garden. He buried Clark's body and heaped stones over the grave. In the afternoon he went for Houseman and threatened him if he disclosed the murder and made him believe he was equally guilty in law.

Clark's disappearance was not noticed for a day or two. Then the people from whom he had "borrowed" jewelry and plate began to make inquiries. Suspicion was directed to Aram in some way. The village authorities searched his house and found a bundle containing battered plate and clothing stained with blood. Notwithstanding this, no action seems to have been taken by the authorities, nor was it suspected that Clark had been murdered. The neighbors began to jeer at the learned schoolmaster, however, and Aram suddenly left his wife and children and walked to London.

For fourteen years his family heard nothing of him. He spent the greater part of the time wandering about from place to place, at last finding a situation as usher in a school at Lynn. In June, 1758, a horse dealer who had known him in Knaresborough met him in the Lynn market. Aram denied his identity. By a singular coincidence, almost the day the horse dealer accosted the now gray haired schoolteacher, a skeleton was found by some workmen digging a pit in Thistle hill, in Knaresborough.

A country town has a keen recollection of everything that has occurred to disturb it, and immediately the disappearance of Clark fourteen years before was remembered. Houseman still alive, got drunk first and then joined the crowd of villagers looking at the exhumed skeleton. "Clark," he said with drunken gravity, "was never buried here."

The latter, still too drunk to realize the gravity of his position, muttered that Clark's body would be found in St. Robert's cave. The crowd made a rush for that place, and soon a skeleton was exhumed.

"I did not kill him!" gasped Houseman, now thoroughly sober and terrified. "It was Aram. I had no part in it."

Houseman was taken to the village jail, and a warrant was sworn out for Aram. When the officers took him away from the school the pupils cried. The government used Houseman as a witness to convict Aram. The latter's speech in his own defense has come down complete—a masterly attack on circumstantial evidence, showing the intellectual power of the man. Aram made a half confession the night before his execution, followed by an attempt at suicide. According to the custom of the time, his body was hanged in chains, and it swung in Knaresborough forest until 1778. Years later, when the details of his crime were dim, his remarkable career attracted Hood and Bulwer, and thus the obscure, talented, perverted man became a part of English literature.—Exchange.

An Opium Farm.

Not far from Macao, at the mouth of the Canton river, China, is an opium "farm." Standing in a courtyard is the great wooden building devoted to opium manufactures, and in its vestibules are heaps of brown balls, not unlike coconuts. Two coolies, seated, cut them open and remove the black, jamlike substance they contain—the compressed poppy. The outer covering is a thick layer of dried leaves. Inside the building the whole place is full of smoke, arising from a hundred charcoal fires in open earthenware "chattis," placed in a row around the walls. Over each fire rests a shallow brass pan in which bubbles a mixture of poppy and water. This mixture is strained through paper and passes on to be more carefully boiled in the next room, where the process is exactly similar. From there it goes to another room, where the sirup is reduced to the consistency of treacle over slow fires. In another building the opium is packed in tiny cans and placed in cages and sealed with the government seal.

A Banker's Generosity.

One day Humboldt was dining with Mendelssohn, the banker, and, an unusual thing for him, was very silent. His host, remarking it, observed to Humboldt that he was sure he must be ill.

"No," said Humboldt, "but I am in great trouble. Only ten minutes before leaving my apartment to come here I received from my landlord a note informing me that he had sold the house in which I reside and that I must move. The very thought drives me to despair. I really cannot bear to move again."

Mendelssohn gradually led Humboldt into conversation, during which he found time to write a note and receive an answer to it. He then took Humboldt aside and said: "By this note I learn that I am now the owner of the house in which you reside. The condition, however, upon which I have become its possessor is that you continue to occupy your apartment in it as long as you live."

Wanted a Bargain.

One day a small Cincinnati boy came to a halt before a sign over a desk in the office of the express company. It gave the rate for money orders, and after studying it for a few minutes he walked up to the cashier and said boldly:

"I want a money order."
"How large a one, my boy?" the clerk inquired benignantly.
"Well, let's see," pondered the little fellow. "The rate for a ten dollar order is 8 cents, isn't it?"
"Yes; that's right."
"Well, I want a drum and pair of roller skates and a new straw hat and some candy. Ten dollars will be enough."

Then he fished through his pockets and triumphantly placed a nickel and three coppers before the astonished clerk. It took ten minutes to convince the youngster that nothing less than $10.08 could buy a money order for $10.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Didn't Give Him a Chance.

"Say, ma," piped up little Johnny after the minister had finished his call and taken his departure, "when Mr. Meeker was here every time you stopped talkin' a minute he would start in to say somethin' an' git as fur every time as 'I dare say,' an' then you would start goin' ag'in an' talk a lot more, an' that is the way it kept on right along, an' the only thing he said all the time he was here was 'I dare say,' 'I dare say,' every few minutes."

"Well, what of it? I am not to blame for Mr. Meeker's paucity of ideas, am I?" demanded Johnny's mother, somewhat impatiently.

"I dunno 'bout that," said Johnny doubtfully, as if not exactly sure what was meant by paucity of ideas, "but anyhow, ma, you orter give him a chance. When he started in with 'I dare say,' why didn't you keep quiet just once, ma, an' let him go ahead an' say what he was goin' to an' hove it over with?"—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Dreamers.

There was never so much need for real dreamers as there is today. The business man, caring only for "his beef, his beer and his new is eternally," will laugh scornfully and want to know how his balance sheet would appear did he give way to dreaming, forgetting that his operations originated years ago in the wildest visions; also that happiness is not a necessary complement of a heavy cash box.—London Academy.

HIS TURN CAME.

The Way the Liquor Man Got Even With the Bank Teller.

Many years ago there lived in Rutland, Vt., two men who bore the same name, which name we will call W. O. Jones. One of these men was a dapper young bank teller; the other was engaged in running a cigar store with a saloon attachment in the rear. This was in the days of prohibition in Vermont. Every three or four weeks the latter Jones would be haled into the police court and fined for liquor selling, which was chronicled regularly in the daily papers. The bank teller grew nervous about it, and one morning this announcement appeared: "W. O. Jones, the popular young bank teller of the Rutland National bank, wishes it to be understood that he is in no way connected with the saloon keeper and hopes their names may not be confounded."

Now, it transpired that a few months afterward this young teller failed to appear one morning at his accustomed window at the bank. Upon a hasty examination it was found that $15,000 or more of the funds of the bank had also disappeared. The wires were called into requisition immediately, and after a few days he was located in Denver. It was the old story. He was brought back, incarcerated, tried, etc.

It was now the saloon keeper's turn, and this notice was duly published in the same paper that issued the previous one: "W. O. Jones, the widely known business man of Merchants' row, wishes it to be understood that he is in no way connected with W. O. Jones, the defaulting bank teller now in jail, and hopes their names may not be confounded."—Exchange.

Selfish Etiquette.

Some rules in an old book on etiquette seem to encourage a practice commonly called "looking out for No. 1." Here are two of them:

"When cake is passed do not finger each piece, but with a quick glance select the best."

Never refuse to taste of a dish because you are unfamiliar with it or you will lose the taste of many a delicacy while others profit by your abstinence, to your lasting regret.

DO YOU WANT TO MAKE OR LOSE MONEY

THIS SUMMER?

THERE is no good reason for any "summer dullness" in the stores of this city. That's a strong statement—but its not nearly so strong as the one to follow.

No store in this city ever suffered from summer dullness that was not directly traceable to its advertising policy—that was not INEVITABLE on account of its advertising policy. This is a strong statement—but not so strong as the one to follow.

You—if you who read this are a merchant in this city—HAVE THE ABSOLUTE POWER TO DECIDE WHETHER, during THIS summer, YOUR STORE SHALL LAG AND LOSE GROUND, through ENCOURAGING THE NON-BUYING HABIT IN THE PEOPLE—or shall keep as busy as in the so-called "busy seasons." You decide the matter one way or the other when you decide on how much or how little you will advertise during these summer months.

To really "gain ground" at a time when some stores are lagging and falling back is not only possible—it is an aspiration—worthy of a man who has the habit of accomplishing his purpose.

GEORGIA FOR JOHNSON

Delegation Will Unanimously Support Minnesotan.

TO CAST TWENTY-SIX VOTES

Big Democratic Convention Getting Ready for the Nomination of Rival Candidates to Taft and Sherman to Head Government.

Denver, July 8.—The Georgia delegation ended their caucus at 2 p. m. They are unanimously for Johnson, and expect to cast 26 votes for the Minnesota candidate.

Denver, Colo., July 8.—The democratic national convention of 1908, which is to nominate candidates for the offices of president and vice president of the United States in opposition to William H. Taft, of Ohio, and James S. Sherman, of New York, whom the republican national convention nominated four weeks ago day, after which the convention will adjourn. There is no reason apparent at present to expect the convention to extend beyond that day.

Opposition to Bryan.

Monday's late hours brought forth some interesting developments in the matter of the presidential nomination and were marked by increasing urgency of effort on the part of the elements opposed to William Jennings Bryan, to prevent his nomination.

There were several conferences in his behalf and the opposition showed its purpose to leave no smallest stone unturned in the search for delegates who might be prevailed upon to vote against the Nebraskan. Those who are leading this effort admit that it is in the nature of a forlorn hope; "but," they say, "forlorn hopes have been known to turn the tide of great battles."

The friends of Mr. Bryan attach much importance to the fact that Lewis Nixon was made chairman of the sub-committee on the injunction plank, while Jude Alton B. Parker, who will be the state's representative on the committee on resolutions, was given second place on the sub-committee. Mr. Nixon is known as a warm friend of Mr. Bryan and his prominence in the Tammany activities is interpreted by the Bryan people as indicating that New York in the final "show down" will support Mr. Bryan.

New York's Vote Counts. The importance of the leadership of New York is apparent in a review of figures given out for the first time by the anti-Bryan people as setting forth the theory on which they have been working. They claim that a timely utterance of New York against Bryan would have rallied a total of 349 votes—fifteen more than enough to prevent his winning the two-thirds vote necessary for nomination. This is the strength they were counting on:

Alabama 1, Florida 7, Georgia 26, Louisiana 18, West Virginia 14, North Carolina 24, Connecticut 12, Delaware 6, Maine 11, Massachusetts 12, New Hampshire 4, New Jersey 24, New York 78, Pennsylvania 48, Rhode Island 4, Vermont 8, Minnesota 22, Ohio 12, Wisconsin 6, Alaska 6, Porto Rico 6—total 349. New York's failure to lead the stampede against Bryan was generally accepted as fatal to the hopes of his opponents; even some of the most sanguine admitting privately that it is now too late to rally an effective combination.

The Platform.

Appointment of the credentials committee brought the platform question definitely to the fore Tuesday afternoon and interest is increasing hourly in the declaration which is likely to be made on the subject of the use of injunctions and court orders in labor controversies. There is no end to the gossip on the subject and tentative planks are of almost hourly production. The real work is being done by an informal committee headed by Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, who is to be chosen chairman of the committee on resolutions. It is expected that when the committee on resolutions at last gets formally to work upon the platform, there will be conferences by telephone with Mr. Bryan at his home in Lincoln and that there will be no real difficulty in arriving at a consensus as satisfactory as a compromise ever can be, to all parties in interest. There is no doubt that Mr. Bryan's views have been made plain to those who have visited him to discuss the subject.

Rolling Mills Start Up.

Birmingham, Ala., July 8.—The Bessemer Rolling Mills started up Monday after an idleness of several months. These works are the property of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company. Employment was given to 300 men. Notices were posted at the plant of the Bessemer Oil Pipe plant giving work to between 300 and 500 men, that there would be a general resumption of operations Wednesday. There is a good demand for the products and big repairs about the plant have been completed.

Ambassador Riddle Recovering.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—John W. Riddle, the American ambassador, is gradually progressing toward recovery.

FOR VICE PRESIDENCY

Clark Howell, of Georgia, Is Endorsed by

THE GEORGIA DELEGATION

Georgians Resolve to Present Editor's Name at Convention and Work for His Nomination—Delegates Opposed to Bryan.

Denver, July 8.—Georgia is against Bryan, if there is any chance of encompassing his defeat, but probably will vote for him unless it is demonstrated in the meantime that a decided stand in opposition can be made. This position of the delegation was announced at the conclusion of the caucus.

It was said that Georgia came to Denver expecting to find an anti-Bry-

an standard about which they could gather with other opposing delegations the uninstructed delegations from New York having been looked forward to as among the opposition factors. Finding New York inactive, however, the delegation has practically announced that it will not be "left alone in a wilderness."

The delegation enthusiastically endorsed Clark Howell for the vice presidency, and determined to present his name to the convention and to start an active campaign in his behalf. Mr. Howell also was named to succeed himself on the national committee.

The Georgia delegation will meet again when some definite plan of action may be made. A representative of Judge Gray has been invited to appear before the caucus to present the claims of Delaware's candidate for the presidency.

W. S. West, who was first selected as the state's representative on the committee to notify the presidential nominee, declined the office on the ground that he "refused to notify Bryan."

TAFT KEEPING BUSY.

Divides His Time Between Golf Links and Political Callers.

Hot Springs, Va., July 8.—William H. Taft spent Tuesday in political conferences and sport on the golf links.

Senator Hemenway, of Indiana, who reached here on the midnight train, talked matters over with Representative Burton, of Ohio, conferred with Judge Taft concerning the chairmanship of the national republican party and conditions in Indiana generally.

Mr. Hemenway's name has been mentioned in connection with the chairmanship.

Revolutionary Outbreak.

Washington, July 8.—A revolutionary movement has broken out against the government of Honduras. Senor Tigarte, the minister here, received word that the town of Gracias, about twenty miles from the Salvadoran border, has been taken by a force coming, presumably, from Salvador. It has a garrison of forty or fifty men and its population is about 3,000.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS AFFAIR.

Remarkable Tragedy Occurs at Vincennes, Ind.

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Vincennes, Ind., says:

Miss Mayme Baker, twenty years of age, is dead, and Charles Ingle, forty years of age, is mortally wounded as the result of a remarkable tragedy in the girl's home.

Mrs. Ollie Youngblood Ellis, a cousin of the girl killed, admits, it is alleged, that she fired all the shots and says she was trying to drive away Ingle, who, in a fit of rage, had seized Miss Baker, threatening her with bodily harm.

Mystery surrounds the details of the affair and the stories of the wounded man and the woman do not agree. Ingle insists he was only attempting to warn the woman, who, he says, had enmeshed his sister's husband, to leave town, and he claims the shooting was without provocation. The bullets which ended Miss Baker's life were aimed at Ingle, who, Mrs. Ellis says, at the time had the girl in his grasp.

Ingle was taken to the jail on suspicion that he had killed the girl, and despite prompt treatment of his wounds, the surgeons hold out no hope for his recovery.

The story of a supposed wrong to a sister, which Ingle sought to avenge upon the woman, his visit of warning to the two, Mrs. Ellis' defense of her cousin and the resultant tragedy is a remarkable one, and the sister's husband, Richard Lovejoy, was locked up pending a full investigation by the police.

Lovejoy, who is a contracting carpenter, is alleged to have been in the house where the shooting took place at the time of the tragedy.

MANY VICTIMS OF HEAT.

Scores Were Prostrated in New York City.

New York, July 8.—Insofar as it was able New York's tenement house population slept out of doors Monday night. After a day whose scorching heat had struck down fully four-score of the Greater City's dwellers, and had directly or indirectly caused the death of twelve persons, the densely populated east side sections, as night settled down oppressively, emptied themselves out into every space available.

Thousands moved their beds to the roofs or fire escapes, thousands more fled to the parks and slept on the benches or stretched themselves out on the grasses, while hordes of the dwellers near the rivers flocked to recreation piers for relief from the furnace-like streets and the almost even-like temperature of the average tenement room.

The day was marked by a maximum temperature of 92, registered by the official recording instrument. This figure, was taken at the top of one of the city's tallest buildings, and high as it was, afforded little idea of the torrid atmosphere close to the sun-baked pavements, where the mercury registered 100 degrees at mid-afternoon in numerous tubes.

There was no relief in the way of showers, and the breezes of the day in the city proper were scant and of little cooling power. The beaches were crowded all day, and even more densely populated at night by seekers for refreshing air currents.

Two persons were driven insane by the heat. One, Frank Marinero, jumped from a second-story window, and was instantly killed.

Will Vote for Gray.

Denver, July 8.—The New Jersey delegates decided today, after a heated argument at their caucus, to vote for George Gray, of Delaware, for president. It was also decided to vote under the unit rule. Robert Hudepeth was elected member of the national committee and James Smith, Jr., was chosen to represent the state on the committee on resolutions.

Russian Official Stabbed.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—Judge N. S. Kravchenko, president of the superior court of St. Petersburg, was stabbed in the breast at Vetrovskoe, whether he had gone to try political prisoners. His assailant escaped.

FIREMEN KEPT ON RUN

Three Fires in One Night Occur in Washington, D. C.

TWENTY HORSES PERISHED

Many Firemen Sustained Injuries and the Damage to Property is Considerable—Man Fell Through Skylight Into Bear's Den.

Washington, July 8.—Most of the city was left in peril while the fire department worked on three conflagrations that broke out from suspicious origin in different parts of the city Monday night, resulting in minor injuries to firemen, the death of twenty horses and property damage of upward of $90,000.

The principal losses were:

The Haines department store, on Eighth and Ninth streets, Southeast; the Virginia stables, Forty-fifth and O street, Northwest; the Ballinger & Gray commission house, 925 Louisiana avenue, Northwest, and the adjoining storage and packing house of C. H. Javins.

During the excitement at the commission house fire, N. D. McCarthy, a saloon proprietor, fell through a skylight and landed in a den in which a large black bear was confined, but was quickly rescued.

FIGHT AT CHURCH.

Father Fatally Wounded and Two Sons Shot.

Tifton, Ga., July 8.—A. Conger, one of the most prominent farmers of the western part of Tift county, was shot and fatally wounded and his two sons, Abraham and Barney, seriously wounded at Salem church, five miles west of Tifton, by Dempsey and Jesse Taylor.

The difficulty grew out of trouble of a year's standing between Congers and the Taylors, when they had rented a crop on Conger's place. In the justice's court at Ty Ty Saturday Conger was a party to a suit against the Taylors and the disagreement which led up to the shooting grew out of this lawsuit.

The Taylors came to the church and called Conger out of Sunday school, but after some words went away. After Sunday school they returned and some hot words. It is said, passed between them and Conger, when the elder Conger struck Dempsey Taylor over the head with a stick and Taylor drew his revolver and commenced firing at him. One shot struck Conger in the forehead, but glanced, inflicting only a scalp wound. Another struck him in the right breast and another in the left breast, within an inch of the heart. Conger then dodged under the buggy in which the Taylors were sitting, and Taylor fired on him again, this bullet striking him near the hip and passing upward through his stomach and inflicting injuries which caused his death.

Jesse Taylor shot Barney Conger through the thigh and Ab through the arm, breaking the bone. At first, the young Congers and Jesse and Will Taylor tried to act as peacemakers until the shooting began. The Taylors left soon afterwards and have not been arrested, although it is understood that they are ready to surrender. The elder Conger was the only one fatally hurt.

Police Prevent Duel.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—The duel arranged between M. Markoff, a radicalist deputy, and Ousp Y. Pergament, deputy from Kherson, as the outcome of a quarrel in the duma a few days ago, which was to have been fought at an early hour Tuesday in the woods a short distance outside the city, was prevented by the police.

Monument to Joel Chandler Harris. Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—A meeting has been called in the city hall here to organize a national movement for the erection of a monument to the late Joel Chandler Harris. It is proposed to call for subscriptions from all parts of the United States and an appeal will be prepared for general circulation through the country.

UREY WOODSON.

Chicago, is at the point of action, and the early hours of the morning found the thousands of delegates, alternates and spectators from all parts of the country beginning to stream toward the great auditorium which the enterprise of the people of Denver has made ready for the welcome.

Respect for Mr. Cleveland.

The unusual feature of the first day's program was the plan to adjourn at an early hour as a mark of respect to the memory of the late ex-President Grover Cleveland, the last democrat who occupied the exalted office of chief magistrate of the nation. This adjournment, however, is not expected to delay materially the work of the convention, for Tuesday's session was, as usual planned to be preliminary in its nature; including only the call to order by the chairman of the retiring committee, Thomas Taggart, of Indiana; the reading of the call for the convention by Secretary Urey Woodson; the opening prayer by Archbishop John J. Keane of Wyoming; the announcement of the temporary convention officers selected by the national committee, and their confirmation by the convention; the opening address of Temporary Chairman Theodore A. Bell, of California, and the announcement of the general committee selected by the members of the state delegations. The committee on credentials, permanent organization, rules and order of business, platform and resolutions will proceed with their work after the adjournment has taken its recess until Wednesday.

The Program.

The program for Wednesday provides for the completion of permanent organization, the address of the permanent chairman, Representative Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, and the receipt and adoption of the reports of the committees appointed. It is expected that the nomination of either president nor vice president will be reached before Thursday; that day the head of the ticket will probably be nominated and the selection of the vice presidential candidate is expected to be deferred until Fri-

J. O. LAFONTISEE IN A NEW ROLE

Has Received Appointment as Government Expert on Turpentine.

THE FOREST SERVICE BUREAU

Many Things to Be Determined by the Government Regarding the Products of the Pine—Gathering and Publication of Statistics.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

J. O. LaFontisee, late campaign manager for Albert W. Gilchrist, successful candidate for the Governorship of the State, is in a new business. The Savannah News says:

"J. O. LaFontisee, an expert from the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture, is in Savannah, having arrived yesterday from Washington for the purpose of conferring with the leading factorage houses. He would not give out the plans to be adopted in securing the information desired, but stated that the work will be as thorough and as complete as possible to make it.

"This will be the first time the Agricultural Department or any other department of the United States Government has made an investigation of this industry along these lines. There have been experiments conducted to ascertain the best methods of securing turpentine with a view of preserving the pine forests of the South, but aside from that there has been little work done either in ascertaining the amount of the annual output of naval stores, or the condition of the pine forests of the South as pertains to this great industry.

"Mr. LaFontisee will go to Jacksonville, and from there proceed to New Orleans, Mobile and Montgomery. During a part of the time that this study is under way Mr. LaFontisee may have headquarters in Savannah.

Comprehensive Study.

"The forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture is soon to begin a comprehensive study of the naval stores industry under a special appropriation made by the last session of Congress.

"Briefly this study will include the following:

"A study to determine the extent to which turpentine under present methods has destroyed the pine forests of the South, and the present supply of timber suitable for working.

"A study of different methods of turpentine to determine those which are least destructive to the forest and which give the largest yields.

"A study to determine what methods in refining the crude product will give the most acceptable grades of naval stores in the largest quantity.

"A study to determine how far it is practicable to produce naval stores from waste wood and thus to lessen the drain upon the forests.

"The gathering and publishing of statistics on the annual production of naval stores in co-operation with the bureau of the census, in the same general manner that other statistics of forest products are secured and published.

"A study to determine what proportion of the naval stores produced is produced by the cup and gutter system.

"It is expected that the work will be well under way by July 15th. Preliminary steps, such as arranging for a definite plan of operation and the selection of a competent force, are always under way and when the field force begins active work the necessary information as to location of turpentine stills, the best methods to be employed and other data will be at hand."

HAILE HOUSE PARTY.

A Jolly Set of Gainesville Girls Will Entertain At Haile Homestead.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun.

Unique invitations have been issued to a house party at the picturesque old Haile Homestead at Kanapaha, given by ten of Gainesville's most popular young ladies. The party leaves the city this afternoon via the S. A. L., among the number being Misses Louise Walker, Irene McCreary, and her guest, Essie Bessent of Jacksonville, Pearl Whetstone and her guest, Rosa Belle Ghardeau of Monticello, Annie Cannon, Emily Vandeventer, Alma Fennell and her guest, Pansy Souter of Ocala, Marion Futch, Belle Sadler, Laurie Baird, and Messrs. Tobe and Ed Clark, Glen Stringfellow, W. T. Bodiford, Dr. Harry Pearce, Pat Graham, Klien Graham, J. W. and W. S. Shands, Addison Pound, Henry Davis, Curry Merchant, Willie Anderson, Mal Haughton of Ocala, and Messrs. Albertson, Bous, Haughton and Riley of Jacksonville.

This jolly party will be delightfully chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Evans Haile, and Mrs. Rachael Haile, and will be absent from the city about ten days.

They Are Accommodating.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

Mrs. Rosa Waters and son, Wallace, left yesterday for Brunswick, Ga., where they will visit Mrs. E. F. Taylor for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Waters is the senior delivery clerk in the Gainesville postoffice and is without doubt the most popular delivery clerk in the State, next to her being the very efficient and obliging Mrs. Zetrouer, who is in charge of the delivery department during her absence. These ladies are always gracious and obliging, being possessed of dispositions which never become "ruffled," no matter what the provocation. We know of only one lady in town who is always "equal to the occasion," as these ladies are, and that is Miss Alma Sullivan, the chief operator at the Bell Telephone station. We intend no disparagement to others in similar capacities, but without doubt these ladies are the most obliging officials that we have had business dealings with. Would that more were like them.

War Against Consumption.

All nations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results. The genuine is in a yellow package. J. W. McColium & Co.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to Captains Lynch and O'Neill, Umpires Chubb and Burkheim, to all the players, and to The Gainesville Sun, which thoroughly advertised the game, and to all who assisted in making the recent "Fat" and "Lean" baseball game, given for the benefit of the band, such a success.

Very respectfully,

THE BAND.

NEGRO MAN KILLED AT JONESTVILLE

Chas. Trapp Inflicts Mortal Wound Upon Jim Stafford.

CIRCUMSTANCES ARE PECULIAR

Claims He Was Shooting at Hat in the Air When Man 150 Yards Distant Was Killed—Trapp Surrendered and is in Jail.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

A killing occurred at Jonesville, eight miles west of Gainesville, Saturday under circumstances which, as reported by relatives of the man who did the killing, are most peculiar. The circumstances as related to the reporter are as follows:

Charles Trapp, a young colored man, and some companions were shooting at targets in the shape of hats being thrown into the air, when one of the charges from Trapp's gun inflicted a mortal wound on Jim Stafford, another colored man, who was some one hundred and fifty yards distant. As soon as Trapp learned that he had killed Stafford he surrendered to the authorities and was brought to Gainesville and lodged in jail.

It is reported that there is another version of the killing, and the true story will probably come out at the preliminary before Justice Henderson at Newberry on the 8th inst. Col. B. A. Thrasher has been retained to defend Trapp.

THE FOURTH AT ISLAND GROVE.

Young People Properly Celebrate the Nation's Birthday.

Island Grove, July 6.—One of the several pleasant events in Island Grove was an entertainment Saturday evening, July 4, given by the ladies and gentlemen of this place.

Quite a number of young people were present, and the occasion was marked by good cheer and merriment. Many National songs were sung in concert, and the event was a prominent one, musically and socially as well. The program was rich in variety and gave scope for the wonderful ability displayed in getting it up. Many of the young people spoke dialogues of an interesting character with much credit to themselves. The music was well rendered by the popular and talented musician, Mrs. Mattie Crosby. A solo was also rendered, "God and Our Nation," by Mrs. L. M. Carty in an enthusiastic manner.

The exercises were concluded by the singing in concert, "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." Progressive forty-two, songs and recitations were rendered until a late hour, when refreshments were served to the enjoyment of all present. The entertainment passed off pleasantly, and when all adjourned to their homes it and thus ended the day.

MR. BELOTE IS DEAD.

Student at University Dies Suddenly at Home in Pensacola.

The sad news of the death of Mr. Edward R. Belote was received in this city Sunday. Mr. Belote died at St. Anthony's Hospital, Pensacola, at an early hour Friday morning, July 3rd, from the effects of an operation for appendicitis.

Deceased was a student at the University of Florida and was at home spending his vacation when he was taken ill about a week previous to his death. Mr. Belote was 22 years of age and was one of the most studious and popular of the students at the University. He was a member of the Kappa Alpha society of the University and was highly esteemed by his large circle of friends in Gainesville, all of whom sincerely regret his untimely death.

Killed a Catamount.

A lively chase after a catamount was indulged in by Perry and Willis Reed in the hammock owned by Mr. Lord, a few miles northwest of Gainesville, on the Fourth of July, the animal finally being killed. It proved to be a large one, measuring three feet six inches in length, and made a spirited effort to elude its pursuers.

LITERARY SOCIETY, U. S. S.

Very Interesting Meeting Occurred Friday Night, July 3.

From Sunday's Daily Sun:
On Friday night the first regular meeting of the University Summer School Literary Society was called to order by the president, Prof. W. H. Cassels. Nearly all the members were present, showing that students and faculty are much interested in the organization.

After the first number on the program, a spirited piano duet by the Misses Wimberly, the president arose and, after acknowledging the honor conferred on him by the society, said that the committee had put him on the program for a fifteen-minute address. Although he had prepared no set speech, and might give the U. S. S. L. S. a hash of subjects, he would try to choose one to begin with, whether he touched it afterwards or not. Contrary to this introduction he proceeded to give the society a well-arranged and interesting talk on the advantages of the literary society, saying that he thought there was nothing more beneficial in school work, whether it took the form of the old-time Friday afternoon exercises, when each little fellow had his "piece" to speak, or of the more dignified organization of the higher grades. Of course, a literary society is of no value if, as in some places, anything—or nothing—is accepted from those on the program; good work must be required, both in original composition and in oratory. As long as the human race has emotions, so long will oratory be of great importance. He then cited examples in recent history to show that it is not a lost art in this age of the printing press, but that great orators are chosen to fill high places now as in old times. There is nothing that so trains the mind to form clear-cut thoughts as the habit of expressing them in forcible language.

Therefore, he concluded, teachers should recognize this branch of school-work, and establish some form of the literary society in all their schools, whether small or large.

A sweet vocal solo by Miss Hardage concluded the program.

The president then said that Mr. Bryant had been appointed critic, but having been called away, was unable to make the report. At this moment, in a remote corner of the auditorium, Mr. Bryant arose, with the remark that the absent one happened to be present.

If any wondered why he had been chosen critic, he said, they were just to look at him while he explained. He then read some poetry describing himself as red-faced and red-headed, with corresponding qualities and also as "a Kentuckian by birth and therefore the meanest on earth." (The reporter supposes it was poetry, because it had a rhyme in it, but is subject to correction.)

Nobody else would expect to get out of Hoadley's Physics anything so easy to understand as a compliment, but Mr. Bryant did it by applying a law with a good deal in it about "power," "weight" and "length," to Prof. Cassels. After saying that the only thing he had to criticize about the program was its shortness, he took his seat, amid more applause than a critic usually gets.

The lights were now turned low, and the first stereopticon slide, picturing the Dunsink Observatory, was thrown on the screen by Major Floyd, while Dr. Yocum introduced his astronomical lecture by a few remarks concerning last Sunday's eclipse. The crescent form of the light filtered through small interstices, he said, could be explained on same principle as the image seen by means of the camera obscura. Several slides illustrated the different kinds of eclipse, both of the sun and moon, and Dr. Yocum touched upon facts connected with their cause and recurrence in a most interesting manner. Others representing the cause of high and low tide were clearly explained, and still others showed comets darting

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary—Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, 'Try them if you like, but I do not think they will do any good.' At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his own patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Resolvent, and I have now been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent users of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my house every day. Mrs. Jean-Baptiste Renaud, clairvoyant, 277, Mentana St., Montreal, Que., Feb. 20, 1907."

through space. These were accompanied by an instructive explanation showing that the popular theory that a collision with a comet would be destructive to the earth, is false, on account of the extreme lightness of those bodies. Besides these slides were some showing diagrams of the solar system, with relative sizes and distances of the planets; sun-spots; views of the moon's surface, and of Mars, Venus and Saturn. It is indeed a privilege to hear Dr. Yocum, and no one who was present could fail to be interested and instructed, especially on the subject of eclipses, for these phenomena were illustrated and explained so clearly.

Dr. Yocum spoke also of "sun-spots." He said that the gases in the sun are heated to such an extent that they emit no perceptible light rays, while those on the surface are luminous. At certain periods terrible cyclones occur which sweep away the luminous surface gases from a portion of the sun, allowing the highly compressed, non-luminous interior gas to be seen as a sun-spot. These were only a few of the many subjects he touched upon so interestingly.

At the conclusion of the lecture, the U. S. S. L. S. adjourned until next Friday night, when another program will be rendered. E. V. S.

PICNIC ON THE FOURTH.

A Pleasant Party Enjoyed the Day At the Mill Hopper.

The day had been planned and the baskets prepared. Off to the Devil's Mill Hopper, a jolly crowd, consisting of the Misses Steekert, Prof. R. N. Wilson, Mr. R. Y. Winters, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Algee, had determined to go for the day. Leaving Gainesville in the early morn we reached the "abode" at an hour when there was yet time for the cooler breezes of the day to be at their best. Down the steep incline of the Mill Hopper we took our steps; there to see gurgling springs pour forth their refreshing waters, yet how soon to be swallowed up in the bosom of mother earth. Casting a glance across from side to side, gorgeous beds of ferns were to be seen completely hiding the ground. Then there were the dense overhanging vines of many descriptions, and the birds twittering in their safe enclosures. Our friend, Mr. Winters, had thoughtfully taken with him a camera, and many were the beautiful views that were photographed. This, itself, will bring to the minds of the picnickers the reality of the occasion, when years shall have rolled by, and one social affair and another and another shall tend to crowd out the past to make ready for the future.

At 12 noon the dinner was spread, and for forty minutes or more the feast of good things was enjoyed. We ate until we could not eat longer, and then there must be a resting period. After lunch the crowd amused themselves by lounging around on the banks of the Mill Hopper, telling jokes and stories of the past. We would not forget the fireworks, for the salutes that were given from time to time brought back to our minds the days of yore.

When the day had been most pleasantly spent in the primeval forest, out where the breezes blow and the pine trees wave with their gentle and graceful swayings, we returned to Gainesville and to our homes, declaring that a day out to the Mill Hopper is the place to spend the Fourth.

THE FIRE LAST NIGHT.

Excellent Work of Gainesville's Efficient Fire Department.

From Tuesday's Daily Sun:

At 9:45 o'clock last night an alarm of fire from Box 63 summoned the fire department to the F. X. Miller block, in the rear of W. M. Johnson's drug store, where the fire was soon located in John Cowan's fish market and restaurant. The door was broken open, a stream of water turned on and the blaze soon extinguished. It was noticeable what quick work the department did in this instance. Before the alarm finished striking six the drivers of the wagons were on their way to the fire. What department can beat this?

Early Cotton.

C. S. Douglass of Alachua probably has the earliest cotton in this section, the bolls now opening in his field of 100 acres. Mr. Douglass reports his crop in fine condition and he expects to begin picking by the 15th inst. The Alachua section is the finest Sea Island cotton growing country in the belt, outside of the Sea Islands of South Carolina, and the staple produced in that section commands the highest price. Mr. Douglass is a successful farmer and will produce quantities of feed stuffs besides his large acreage of cotton.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After Four Years.

G. B. Burhans of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick-dust sediment, and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to anyone suffering from kidney or bladder trouble." Tom Watson ought to be a very happy man. He took up Hoke Smith's crowd two years ago and walloped Clark Howell and his creed; and only recently he took up Clark Howell and his creed and walloped Hoke Smith and his crowd. That's going some, isn't it?

Some of the Florida papers have had to pay heavy postage recently on account of enclosing supplements which were not germane to the regular edition of the paper. The law is very exacting regarding supplements, and some of the Florida publishers have escaped heavy penalties through the oversight of postmasters. The Sun has had experience along this line—the best kind of experience, for we had to pay for it.

The State convention of the Socialist party of America was held in Tampa last Saturday, about sixty delegates being present. Five Presidential electors and a candidate for Congress from each of the three districts were named. A. B. Pettigrew, member of the Legislature from Manatee county, was nominated for Governor, and A. C. Scill of St. Petersburg for Secretary of State. The other State offices were left open.

JOSEPH CHANDLER HARRIS.

Referring to the death of the above popular writer The Tampa Tribune says:

"This country and the world at large owes Joel Chandler Harris a debt of gratitude. His death at Atlanta Friday night will be universally mourned, but his name will live for ages as the compiler and editor of those classics of the old time negro in which the dumb animals were given human intelligence, human speech and human passions. They go much further toward forming a basis of a purely American literature than does the negro melody to furnish one for a national school of music—although, perhaps, Dvorak and his followers might not consent to this.

"Mr. Harris retold these tales of the plantation in a way to show how fully he entered into the spirit and meaning of the various adventures and the singular personalities of the characters that took part in them. In his imagination Bre'r Rabbit, Bre'r Wolf, Sis Cow, Ole Mr. Tarrapin, Bre'r Fox, Bre'r Possum, Miss Meadows and de gals—all the dramatic personae who entered into the plots of the remarkable Uncle Remus stories—were as real, as true to life and as deeply interesting as to the venerable old uncle himself when exerting his talents as actor and raconteur to delight and astonish the 'chiluns' 'um de big house."

"These stories will remain for all times on the shelves of public and private libraries and will give joy to millions yet to come as they have been the delight of millions in the past and still are in the present. The philosophy in these stories, the quaint portrayal of human attributes with a pen stroke as delicate as that of Wadsworth or Burns, makes them as entertaining to the adult mind as they are mirth provoking to the little ones. They are literary gems, unique in thought, quality and in expression. They have immortalized their compiler, and the name of Joel Chandler Harris is destined to live longer than the names of many more pretentious authors whose books are devoured during a holiday season and are then forgotten."

THE LIGHT IS NOW BREAKING.

Everywhere in the South the same reports are made regarding the widening of the area devoted to food supply crops. This great feature of Southern agriculture is now becoming distinctly noticeable by every man who travels and takes the time to observe the cultivated fields. There is more grain planted in the South this year than for a generation past. There will be more pork killed next winter than for any year since the early sixties. Nearly every man who has a barn will fill it next fall with good, fine, home-made forage. There are more farmers raising poultry and making butter at home than for many seasons in the past, and these well-directed efforts to make the farm self-sustaining as far as possible was never more apparent or pronounced, says an exchange.

To which The Palatka Times-Herald adds that at last the light is breaking in. The sky is getting clear and the clouds are rolling by. The full corn-crib and the crowded smokehouse tell the story of real prosperity on the farm. Diversify and become independent. Depend on cotton or any one crop and remain in poverty. The two short sentences above should be pasted on a placard and tacked above the door of every farmer in the land. They convey the truth, and no man will deny them. Every man loves to see the waving, growing grain on his farm, because it bespeaks freedom from the credit system. So shout diversification from the hill tops and down the valley, and let it be practiced on every farm. Then will come that character of prosperity which makes for all rural communities wealth, contentment and happiness.

John T. G. Crawford of Pensacola, elected in the recent primary as a delegate to the National Democratic Convention, will be the youngest man in the convention. Crawford, who is but 22 years of age, is a son of Secretary of State, H. Clay Crawford. He studied law in the University of Virginia and has been practicing in Pensacola two years. He takes to politics as does a duckling to water, and if he has ever made a political mistake it was nothing more than undertaking to manage Governor Broward's late Senatorial campaign—something he can live down.—Palatka News.

BEWARE OF MICROBES.

Please don't blame the Governor for going to Denver.

He couldn't help it.

He has been bitten by the migratory microbe and he has wanderlust.

This is not a new disease. It's the name only that is new. The children of Israel had it in epidemic form for forty years. Open the book of Jobe and you'll find that Satan had it, for we have his own confession that he came; "from going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it." The Wandering Jew had a severe case of this same wanderlust. So did the Flying Dutchman, Gulliver, Sinbad the Sailor, Don Quixote, Baron Munchausen, Henry M. Stanley, Rhoderic Random, the Russian army and Charles Francis Train.

To locate this traveling disease in more modern times all we have to do is to think of—William Jennings Bryan, Elbert Hubbard, Pat Murphy, Bill Taft, Raisuli, and the Convict Inspectors. They have all got—wanderlust.

So, I say, don't blame Broward, for—he's got it bad.

I did think when he came in from his last campaign among the "great-hearted" that he would stay awhile. When three days passed, and the fourth found him in whooping distance of old Leon's red clay hills, I began to hope that the crisis of the disease had passed. When the tolling of Tallahassee's church bells on two successive Sundays disturbed the executive slumber, I began to figure on convalescence.

But, no; it was not to be. The dread disease had too firm a grip; its strangle-hold could not be shaken off. That iron constitution which withstood the storms of the Spanish main had at last succumbed.

He had a relapse which—

Carried him to Denver—

And—

Once more they've nailed the old familiar sign on the executive door. It is dim and faded now. It's once bright surface shows the marks of much handling and long and frequent service. But a close inspection will even yet discover its legend to be—

GOVERNORS OF FLORIDA.

Right now we are preparing to select another Governor for our "fair land of flowers," says The Quincy Times, and the following list of those who have been the chief executives of our State since the adoption of the Constitution, might be of interest to those who are not familiar with the same. The list is in rotation as follows:

Year.	Name.
1845.....	William D. Moseley.
1849.....	Thomas Brown.
1853.....	Joseph E. Broome.
1857.....	Madison S. Perry.

1866.....	David S. Walker.
1868.....	Harrison Reed.
1872.....	Ossian B. Hart.
1874.....	Marcellus L. Stearns.
1877.....	George F. Drew.
1881.....	William D. Bloxham.
1885.....	Edward A. Perry.
1889.....	Francis P. Fleming.
1893.....	Henry L. Mitchell.

MILLIONAIRES AND PRESIDENT.

That millionaire Cincinnati who is at the point of death as a result of cheering for thirty minutes for Roosevelt at the Chicago convention, should be a warning to the other sixty-three millionaires who attended the convention to let such strenuous politics as Roosevelt seems to require religiously alone in the future. This sad case of over wrought enthusiasm for the President raises the serious question: Why did these "malefactors of great wealth" cheer for the President? President Roosevelt was supposed to be chasing these rich malefactors to their dens in the lairs of the Octopii, and other predatory corporations, and here we have evidence of collusion, or at least, affection between the millionaires and the President, even to the point of sacrificing their health, if not their lives in his behalf. This devotion is beyond our comprehension.

One can't help admiring the man who is good-natured during hot waves as well as between them.

LAGGING BUSINESS.

The boast of the Republicans that their policies have carried the country safely through the panic, and that business is rapidly reviving, does not seem to agree with the facts. For instance, the United States Cast Iron Pipe Foundry Company, known as the pipe trust, has just made its report to its stockholders which shows very disappointing results. The president of the company says in his report:

"During November, 1907, business absolutely stopped; the company did not lose its business. There was no business.

"When there was added to this natural condition the depression which was caused by the panic, the result was a stagnation such as has never been known in the history of the cast iron pipe business in this country. Not only was there a cessation of business and a sharp fall in prices in November, but there was a declining market all through the winter and early spring months."

But the report tries to encourage the stockholders, although no dividend is declared even on the preferred stock, by saying "that with the opening of spring business has improved." It need hardly be said that but very small orders would be an improvement over the entire cessation of business reported.

The other branches of the steel and iron business, although not making quite as disastrous a showing, are nearly in the same fix. Yet the Republican platform boasts that Republican policies have protected the business of the country.

A COMPARISON.

Governor Broward declines to reinstate Sheriff Jackson, whom he removed from office several months ago. Jackson has, however, been since nominated by a primary election vote, and will be reinstated by the voters on November 3d.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

That's just like Broward. He refuses to recognize the will of the Democratic party. He was himself once removed from the office of sheriff, and when he appealed to the people of his county he was "reinstated." Better keep "an eye to the windward," Captain (Governor). We "Old Sea Dogs" can always ferret something out of the clouds that overhang the horizon.

A New York foreign resident shot himself the other day because he had not been able to master the English language after studying it thirteen years. There are millions of us in this country who have studied it thrice that length of time without mastering it, but we are still contented to live and to make ourselves heard, if not always understood, in the greatest language ancient or modern.

A prominent ornithologist says the song of the bird was originally a cry of alarm. Someone ought to find out what the song of the tomat original was.

The Agricultural Department committed itself to the split-log drag for good roads without waiting to see how the Taft-roller worked.

THE TROUBLE IN PANAMA.

There has been some criticism in this country, and there will doubtless be more criticism in the Central and South American States, of the action of President Roosevelt in sending marines to Panama about the time of the election of a new president in that country, but it cannot be denied that we are within our rights in taking marines to preserve the peace and insure a fair election. It is provided by the Panama constitution that the Government of the United States of America can intervene in any part of the Republic of Panama for the purpose of establishing the public peace and constitutional order in event of the same having been disturbed. Moreover, by a special treaty between this country and Panama, this constitutional provision is confirmed and interference is permitted whenever "in the judgment of the United States, the Republic of Panama should not be able to maintain order." Happily, there is no prospect now that there will be any need for the interference of this Government in Panama. True, we have a thousand marines there, but their attitude will probably be that of a police force. The fact that we have such a force on the ground, is a strong guarantee that public order will not be disturbed and it also is a guarantee that there shall be a free vote and an honest count at the final election on the 12th of July. We have vast interests in Panama and the people of that country know it. They also know that if armed interference should become necessary, their existence as an independent country would probably come to a sudden end.

A YEAR OF BIG MINTAGE.

Ninety per cent of the coinage by the United States in the fiscal year of 1908 consisted of gold eagles, a coin which probably not one in a hundred people sees as often as once a year. Altogether the coinage of the country comprises seventeen different varieties, seven of which were for the Philippine Islands in pesos and centavos, and one of which of the same denomination was for account of the Mexican government. The number of pennies turned out averaged a little less than one for each inhabitant.

The total coinage for continental United States was $215,714,826. This has been one of the most active years in the history of national minting. Of this amount $179,238,337 were in gold and $16,532,477 in silver, or about the ratio of one of silver to twelve of gold. The coinage for the Philippine Islands included more than 25,000,000 pieces valued at $18,121,825, or more than the total silver coinage for the United States.

How long, oh, how long will the people of the United States suffer the imposition of trusts in the shape of express companies carrying our mail matter at, at least, ten times the cost that such matter is carried in European countries, thus robbing the Post-office Department of its most valuable patronage and robbing the people of billions of pennies? Ex-Postmaster-General Wanamaker said there were four reasons why the people of this country could not have a parcels post. These four reasons were the four great express companies of the United States. We have the highest postage rate of any country in the world for special communication, and we can make no use of postal facilities in conveying packages of moderate weight. We can send a package to Australia cheaper than we can send it from one State to another in our own country. It is a well-known fact that every improvement in facilities among a people increases the general wealth and intelligence and the converse is also true: that every barrier placed in the way of trade or communication is at the expense of enlightenment and of revenue, public and private.

It is probable that a State convention of the Democratic party will hereafter be called to select Presidential electors, delegates to the National convention, National committeeman, and adopt a platform of party principles. The rank and file of the Democrats are disgusted with having candidates for the above positions placed on the primary ticket, as well as the party being placed in the ridiculous attitude of standing for no fixed principles. There are issues in State campaigns which should be passed upon by the party, and we believe the new State committee will respect the will of the people in these matters.

PICNIC BIG SUCCESS.

The Masons of Melrose On the Lake
Have Pleasant Gathering.

Melrose, June 8.—The Masonic picnic on July 4th was quite a success, about 250 people being present, notwithstanding the many other picnics advertised in the neighborhood. A short shower just at noon caused the dinner to be spread in the town hall, and a most bountiful dinner it was, too, both in quality and quantity.

Late in the afternoon Craig & Jackson ran an excursion on the lake.

Melrose Lodge 89, F and A. M., had a busy day, holding two sessions to confer the second and third degrees on ten candidates. The lodge was honored by the presence of E. N. Holt and W. S. LaMee from Green Cove

Springs and G. W. DeSha, Jas. B.
Cone of Waldo, who rendered valuable assistance in the work.

Mrs. Jennie Hicks, nee Dawley, died after a long and painful illness on Friday, and was buried in Ellam cemetery Saturday morning, Rev.

Barr officiating at the service in the church and at the grave. Mrs. Hicks was born in St. Joe county, Mich., on June 17, 1849, and was married to Albert C. Hicks in 1872. They came to Florida from Kalamazoo about five years ago. Mrs. Hicks has been a constant and earnest member of the Methodist Church for nearly twenty years.

C. P. Huffman left Monday for a visit to friends in Churchtown, Pa.

Roy Barnett is visiting his mother,
Mrs. M. J. Barnett.

On and after July 6th, the mail will leave Melrose at 7:30 a. m. instead of 6:15 a. m., a fact which is much appreciated by all.

By some mysterious means the pavillion formerly over the old town well, transferred itself on Sunday night to the new town pump, its proper place.

WILL BE JUNIOR SCHOOL.

Progressive People of Archer Will Enlarge Their School Building.

The good people of Archer propose to have one of the best interior schools in the county, and as a result of this,

have already begun preparations.

J. K. Tuten, the supervisor of that district, was in the city yesterday conferring with Superintendent Kelley regarding same.

They will move the present house from its site and together with this building erect a commodious two-story frame building for the education of the pupils of that town.

In addition to this the school will hereafter be classed as a junior, Mrs.
Baldwin having already been engaged as principal.

Enjoyable Drag Party.

An enjoyable drag party was given by Mrs. Dr. J. H. Colson in honor of her sister, Miss Weeks of Savannah, who is spending a few days in the city as her guest. A delightful luncheon was served and the invited guests were highly entertained, besides the drive was well covered over the city. The party was chaperoned

by Mesdames Colson and J. H. Alderman.

In the Mayor's Court.

There was little doing before His Honor Mayor Davis yesterday, there being only one case of disorderly conduct, the defendant, James Taylor, being assessed "one and cost."

RICHBOURG KILLS ANOTHER MAD DOG

Canine Was Blooded Setter and Recently Purchased.

ATTACKED MASTER IN FIELD

Dr. J. H. Hodges Will Send the Head Off Today for Examination—The Animal Had Every Symptom of Rabies.

D. J. Richbourg, who resides at Millard Station, southwest of Gainesville, was yesterday afternoon compelled to kill his valuable setter dog,

which was supposed to be mad.

Mr. Richbourg states that while he was plowing in his field the dog came out and attacked the plow, biting at it viciously for several minutes, but finally went running off in the far end of his field.

He was surprised when about an hour later the dog came back with the same symptoms and was snapping at him, and he soon procured his gun and sent the canine to dog heaven.

After killing the animal he cut its head off and brought it to this city and turned it over to Dr. J. H.

Hodges, who will have the same expressed off for examination.

the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Emerson and son, Lucius, of Tacoma, came over Thursday to visit friends and attend the picnic on the Fourth. We are sorry to note that Mr. Emerson is in very poor health.

We are having a few light showers which are very much needed.

H. M. Webb of High Springs, a popular conductor on the A. C. L., attended the picnic here on the Fourth.

Miss Mamie Smith, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith, is spending the week in Gainesville,

Mr. Lucius Smith, formerly of this place but now of Jacksonville, is expected home next week to spend a much-needed vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Curry and inter-spent last week very pleasantly at Flemington, the guests of Mrs. Drew

Mathews. While there they were the guests of honor at a picnic on Orange
Lake, and a dance at the town hall.

The Fourth was gloriously celebrated at Wacahoota by a picnic. The morning was spent in pleasant conversation, while at noon a most bountiful dinner was served under the wide-spreading oaks. Ice water and lemonade were plentiful, and its needless to add that it was enjoyed to the fullest extent.

In the afternoon some repaired to the home of Mrs. C. M. Smith, where delightful music was rendered on the piano, while others enjoyed driving.

One quite amusing feature of the day was the double mock wedding.
Those from a distance who attended this enjoyable affair were: Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Mathews of Tacoma; Mr.

and Mrs. C. K. Edwards and Mrs. W.

J. Edwards of Irvine; Mrs. C. S.

a delightful time.

BASE BALL TEAM IS NOW ASSURED

Leading Citizens Subscribe Liberally to the Venture.

WILL BE NAMED OAK HALLS

The New Team Will Be All That Good Backing and Judgment Can Make It—Up to the Citizens Now to Encourage Them.

Gainesville is to have an up-to-date
baseball organization of semi-professionals which will compare with the famous Oak Halls, and if such can be the case it will try to excel and gain new laurels for the old name which they will take up.

Acting upon the impulse that we needed something during the summer months to entertain the people, G.

Henry Davis and C. R. Layton were yesterday busily engaged in getting up subscriptions for the project.

They were successful to the extent that they have enough subscribed to put the boys on a substantial footing,

and it will require only the efforts of our citizens to maintain one of the best teams to be found in the State.

The old Oak Halls have done a great deal to advertise us and have added laurels to the city for which they never received the slightest encouragement at times, but we think the public-spirited citizens will lend a helping hand to the new organization which will take them through the summer victorious with all teams that come their way.

THE SUMMER TERM

South Florida Normal Institute Will Open on Monday, July 27.

Dear Friend: Permit me to call your attention to the special summer term of the South Florida Normal

Institute, beginning July 27th, and running up to the September examination. This is the opportunity for those who have no certificate to make one in September. This is the chance for those holding third grade to go to second grade, those holding second grade to go to first grade, and those holding first grade to go on to a State certificate. Next year an additional study will be added, making the examination that much harder to pass.

The same text books from which the June examination was taken will be used for the September examination.

Arrangements have been made with the State Superintendent to hold an examination for State certificates at the close of this special term. This is your chance to complete your State work. Do not miss this chance.

Terms—Tuition is six dollars for the six weeks, board $12.50 per month.

In conclusion, permit me to say that I have on file more applications for senior high school principals than I can fill. Come and fit yourself for one of these positions.

For further particulars, address P.
W. Corr, A. B., Principal, Dade City, Fla.

Address till July 24, P. W. Corr, A.

The Eddins Manufacturing Company of this city have secured the contract for erecting a large and commodious residence, to cost $4,000, for J. K.

Christian of McIntosh, one of the leading merchants at that point. Milo

Bennett left yesterday with a force of ten men and will rush the work to completion as rapidly as possible.

Interesting Prayer Service.

There was an entertaining and instructive prayer service at the residence of R. B. Peeler in East Gainesville Tuesday night, which was largely attended. These meetings are held regularly every week, and the next meeting will be held at home of Capt.

T. H. Richardson, in the same locality.

Wreck On Seaboard.

A wreck occurred on the Seaboard railway just north of Ocala Monday night, when the South-bound Jacksonville and Tampa train was derailed.

The North-bound train was compelled to move over the Coast Line tracks from Ocala to this city. No casualties were reported.

If you have found anything see it is advertised in the west column.

HOW TO EXTERMINATE MOSQUITOES

What a Discarded Can Can Do Towards Breeding the Mosquito.

A MOST APPALLING DISCOVERY

The Health Department of Richmond Makes Important Statement, Which Is Endorsed by National Authorities—Kerosene Prevents Breeding.

"Besides being an intolerable nuisance, mosquitoes are the only means by which malarial fever is carried."
"No standing water, no mosquitoes."
"No mosquitoes, no malaria."

The above quotations are taken from a pamphlet on "The Extermination of Mosquitoes," issued by the health department of Richmond and fully indorsed by Health officer W. C. Woodward of the District of Columbia.

Dr. Woodward declares that while not as prevalent as formerly, the cases of malaria may be reduced still more by following the suggestions made by the Richmond Board of Health. The filling in of the Potomac flats, he said, has reduced malaria to a large extent, but a great reduction can be made by the observation of certain regulations. The local department, he added, has not the means to conduct a campaign against the mosquito, but results can be obtained by the co-operation of the citizens in fighting the pests.

Breed in Quiet Water.

The following is taken from the bulletin issued by the Richmond authorities:

"Any collection of standing water—from an old tin can or bucket to a ditch or pond—is a good breeding place for mosquitoes. Do not permit such a breeding place to exist on your premises and do not tolerate any on the premises of your neighbors.

"If kerosene oil is poured over the water containing mosquito larvae or pupae, it forms a thin film over the surface and the young mosquitoes cannot stick their breathing tubes through to get the air. One quart of kerosene oil is sufficient to form a film over a pool twenty feet in diameter.

"Regular applications of kerosene oil once a week during the summer and fall will, therefore, be certain to prevent any breeding of mosquitoes in the pool so treated.

What a Can Can Do.

"But pools and ditches are by no means the only breeding places for mosquitoes. A single old bucket or tomato can, left with water standing in it, or so left that it can become filled with rainwater, is capable of furnishing a sufficient number of mosquitoes to make the surrounding block miserable.

"A very little effort on the part of everyone will rid the city of mosquitoes, making malaria a rare disease and enable you to sit out of doors at night and sleep with comfort. If you regard this as worth while, do your part.

"Any person with malaria who neglects treatment is not only losing valuable time, during which his vitality is steadily undermined, but he is also a menace to others."

LEGAL SALES DAY.

City Tax Sales and Two Pieces of Property Disposed Of.

From Wednesday's Daily:

Outside of City Tax Collector Benton Mills' sale of property for non-payment of taxes, there was not much doing in the way of legal sales last Monday. About one-third of the property advertised for the taxes due the city was bought by individuals, in most cases being purchased by parties who owned the same.

There were two sales by Special Master Christopher Matheson as follows:

In the case of the Baird Hardware Co. vs. T. R. Hest, involving two and a half acres in Section 32, Township 9, Range 20, the property was bid in by the plaintiff for the sum of $125.

Probably the most interesting sale of the day was the case of the City of Gainesville vs. Mrs. Mary E. Cox, nee Mrs. D. E. Cooper, involving one acre in the southeast corner of lot 12, formerly lot 37, Brown's addition to Gainesville. This judgment was secured by default for the construction of sidewalks, and the property was bought by T. W. Shands for $645.

Proof is inexhaustible that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound carries women safely through the Change of Life.

Read the letter Mrs. E. Hanson, 304 E. Long St., Columbus, Ohio, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was passing through the Change of Life, and suffered from nervousness, headaches, and other annoying symptoms. My doctor told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was good for me, and since taking it I feel so much better, and I can again do my own work. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me during this trying period."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

A CHAMPION SWIMMER.

Amos Hulchard of St. Petersburg Swam for an Hour.

The Tampa Times relates the following interesting fact which occurred last Friday:

"A test of endurance way above the ordinary fell to the lot of Amos Hulchard, a deck hand on the big power boat 'Vandalla,' on the latter's run to St. Petersburg Friday. He fell overboard and swam for over an hour before he was missed, and the 'Vandalla' put back on her course in search of him. He was not the least bit discomfited by his long swim, and was working at his post next day.

"Hulchard belongs to St. Petersburg, and is about 18 years of age.

"When the 'Vandalla' was off Gadsden's point, or practically well around it, the cook went to summons Hulchard to dinner. He was not to be found. A hasty search of the boat was ordered by Captain Will McPherson, and as soon as this disclosed the fact that the young man must be overboard the vessel was put back, and took the back track on her course.

"I knew that he was an excellent swimmer," declared Captain McPherson. "Hence my action in immediately putting back. I was afraid, however, that he might have been struck by the wheel, in which case it would have been all over. We picked him up near light 13, after he had been swimming for nearly an hour."

"Hulchard was making his way for the shore as best he could. His long stay in the water did not even materially weaken him, and he went to work shortly after he was rescued."

Starved to Death

Is what could truthfully be said of many children who die. They have worms, poor little things—they don't know it and you don't realize it. If your child is cross, fretful, pasty complexioned and loses weight for no apparent reason, give it White's Cream Vermifuge—you will be surprised at the results and how quickly it picks up. Mills Resume Work.

Montgomery, Ala., July 7.—A Huntsville, Ala., special says that the Abingdon cotton mills, which have been idle for several months, began work Monday, giving employment to four hundred people. It is understood that other mills will be started by the middle of the month the demand for cotton goods having picked up lately.

To Prevent Hydrophobia.

The following item of especial interest at the present time is taken from a recent issue of The Atlanta Journal:

"Editor Journal: A correspondent writes that, about six years ago, he saw an item in a newspaper stating that a German physician was going to die, and he wished to make known the discovery he had made in relation to the treatment of a mad dog bite. The prescription he never knew to fail and he tried it many times with men, cattle and horses. It is this: 'Simply wash the wound as soon as possible in a little warm vinegar and water and put a few drops of muriatic acid into the wound.'

"This will neutralize the poison and prevent the disease which usually proves fatal.

"Now the mad dogs are raging. I trust this information may be of value. I get it from my scrap-book. Respectfully, ED HOLLAND.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

HYDROPHOBIA.

Claimed That a Person is in Little Danger from Disease.

The following letter was written to Mrs. B. K. Vieth, a prominent lady of Ontario, Canada, in answer to her's of May 26:

"Boston, May 28, 1908.

"Mrs. B. Kirby Vieth.

"My Dear Mrs. Vieth: In answer to your kind favor received, Dr. Chas. W. Dulles of 4101 Walnut street, Philadelphia, who is professor in the University of Pennsylvania, has, under direction of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, been studying rabies and hydrophobia for something like twenty years, and says that statistics show that hydrophobia is so extremely rare as to make it fairly an open question whether it is anything more than a disease of the imagination. If you will write him, I think he will send you useful information on the subject for publication, although of course he cannot write everybody, for he has not the time.

"In past years I have had cases of alleged hydrophobia examined by my officers without finding one where the death of any person was clearly proved to have occurred from that disease. Hundreds of thousands of dogs have been handled in dog pounds and elsewhere by persons who have received thousands of bites but no one of them has died of hydrophobia. Of course any case, reported in any part of the United States and for which there may not be the slightest foundation, is likely to be republished by something like twenty thousand newspapers. I do not believe that one case in forty of those published have established the death of any person from hydrophobia. I think there is ten times and perhaps fifty times the danger of a man being struck by lightning that there is of his dying of hydrophobia.

"With kindest wishes, I am,

"Yours sincerely,

"GEO. T. ANGELL.

"P. S.: In 'Who's Who in America' you will find a full account of Dr. Chas. W. Dulles, showing his eminence as a physician and surgeon."

The above is taken from the July number of "Our Dumb Animals," published by the American Humane Educational Society, of which Mr. Angell is president.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., July 6.—The Republican managers are at war with each other over the selection of a candidate for their National Committee. Taft seems loath to enter the matter and has postponed his decision until July 8th. What he arrives at will not be the era of good feeling that is being to get the brethren together. The trouble is the antipathy between Taft and Voreys, the two managers of the campaign for nomination. Although Mr. Hitchcock said that his health will not permit him to assume the arduous duties of chairman, his friends are actively at work in his behalf would indicate that he is here, and there is no love lost between these two, for both seem to have fixed things for Taft to be entitled to the chairmanship. Both of these practical men know too much to be neglected by Mr. Taft, and both will be taken care of politically. Doubt will be. If the law committee of expenditures made during nominations, there would be a nest of corruption. A way of money spent and off-hand exposed to the American public which would astound them and defeat Mr. Taft for President.

The Republican leaders having the bill for publicity of campaign contributions and expenditures, they rejected the LaFollette platform which promised requiring publicity, the men find themselves handicapped at the beginning of their campaign, who, having had a taste in the selection of the candidate want to feed on the full of political corruption. It is certain that Voreys will not be chairman, for although he cleared the way in Ohio by getting his appointment would be the deal that was made by Cox, allowing him in return to support Taft to dictate the terms of very questionable candidates for the principal State officers, which quite a large faction of the Republican party in that State is to support.

Democrats adopt a plank in their platform for publicity of campaign contributions and expenditures and the nomination of candidates for their election, that is to be quite prominent in the platform and may affect enough in the doubtful States to turn the balance in favor of the Democrats. That Mr. Bryan favors such a plank and will advise the new platform of the Democratic National Committee to publish the items of all expenditures in this campaign. If Mr. Bryan should also incur expense incurred by himself in his long campaign, nomination made public, he would make it decidedly uncomfortable for Mr. Taft, in whose interest large amount of money is reported to have been spent by his friends and others, for it is said that such expenditures would hardly be in cold figures.

There will be no initiative and referendum in the Democratic platform secured upon high authority and the anti-injunction declaration about as the labor people expect that the wording will be condensed. I am also inclined to think the whole platform is now in a severe blue penciling at Lincoln and will emerge from Bryan's sanctum sanctorum in a revised form that will compare favorably with the verbose platform of the Republican platform.

GOOD BALL TEAM
ALMOST ASSURED

Influential Young Business Men Quietly Working Up Interest.

SCHEDULE TO BE ARRANGED

The Fans of Gainesville May Once More Have a Chance to Witness Good Ball Games Like When "Oak Halls" Were At Their Best.

There is a movement on foot in this city, which if successful, and there is every reason to believe that same will be, will give the people here a chance to see some baseball that will rival in quality the game put up by the famous "Oak Halls" of years ago. Several influential young business men of the town are quietly at work on the matter, and it is predicted that in the course of a few days something favorable will be heard from them.

It is understood that Howard Sheats, who played with the Gainesville team a couple of years ago, is coming back to Gainesville, and Ollie Jacobie, a former student of the old East Florida Seminary, will be back with us, both of whom are well and favorably known by local fandom. It is also expected that another pitcher will be secured.

With the addition of such local players as Sandy Graham, Earl Taylor, "Toby" Clark, Harry Denton, Ed Clark, Gilbert Kennard, Larkin Carter, Theo. Cannon, Byas and Davis Douglas, and many others, should form the nucleus of an exceedingly fast team.

A strong schedule will be arranged, which will take in some of the best teams in the State.

If such a team is organized there will be no doubt about the fans of Gainesville supporting them well in a financial way.

Be On Time.

J. A. Goodwin, the accommodating ticket agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, requests The Sun to say to the traveling public that if they would get to the depot a little earlier there would be no necessity for them traveling without tickets, and hence be compelled to pay the extra fifteen cents on account of not having tickets. It is impossible for him to issue a ticket to each and every one at the same time. He believes in a "square deal," and the best he can do is to adhere to the rule of "first come first served," hence it is not his fault if you get to the depot too late to purchase a ticket before the train departs.

New Schedule Effective July 9th.

From Wednesday's Daily:

The Tampa and Jacksonville railway will inaugurate a new schedule over their line, effective July 9th. Trains will leave Gainesville for Sampson City at 5:50 a. m. and 5:30 p. m., and will connect with all trains on the Georgia Southern and Florida. Returning will arrive in Gainesville 9:50 a. m., and 9:30 p. m.

Trains will leave Gainesville for local points south, Rocky Point, Micahopy and Fairfield, at 10:10 a. m. Returning arrive at Gainesville 4:25 p. m.

A baseball stock company has been organized in Lakeland, with $1,000 already subscribed and more to come. A first-class team will be put in the field.

The Knights of Pythias will hold their supreme lodge meeting in Boston August 4th to 15th. The railroad fare from Jacksonville will be $39.35, and for an extra dollar you can extend your ticket to September 16th, and by paying an additional dollar can get a stop-over in New York city.

The total valuation of exports made through the port of Pensacola for the fiscal year ending June 30th, is $20,328,609, exceeding the previous year by more than a million dollars. Shipments of cotton, naval stores, lumber, phosphate and tobacco all showed a decided increase. The June exports amounted to $1,340,982.

The foundation is being laid for Dr. E. P. Guerrant's equine hospital. The building will be 40x80 feet and two stories in height. The floors will be of cement and the building and its equipment will be the very best. This will be the first equine hospital in this portion of the State, and the very best equipment in the State.—Ocala Star.

The large wharf recently built by the Porter-Allen Company at Key West collapsed under the weight of a large quantity of buttonwood. Several small vessels were badly damaged by the crash. The schooner "Pride of the Sea" was damaged and the "Luther Pinder" launch was also badly damaged. A number of small boats are buried under the wreck.

The huge ship "Chipana," loaded with a 9,300-ton cargo, has thoroughly proven that it is safe for vessels of deep draft to enter the Fernandina harbor. The "Chipana" is 435 feet long by 54 feet wide, and when going out loaded was drawing 29 feet of water. She passed safely over the bar. It is said the "Chipana" had contemplated entering at Savannah, but found it impossible to do so.

C. S. Hannatt and Mr. Dickey of Jacksonville have organized a firm for the purpose of mining and the cutting of gems and selling principally to the trade. Mr. Dickey, while in New York last week, closed contracts with some of the largest concerns in the country for their entire output of medium and low-grade gem material to be used for bearings and jewels in instruments, watches and the various industrial arts. Their high-grade or gem material they will cut and market themselves as gems.

N. H. Green shot and killed E. W. Tidwell at Branford last Thursday morning while they were waiting at the station for the Live Oak train. They were on their way to Live Oak to attend court, Green being the prosecutor and Tidwell the defendant. Only a few words passed between them when Green shot Tidwell twice and he died instantly. The coroner's jury acquitted Green. The evidence showed that he acted in self-defense. Mr. Green is a prominent merchant and naval stores man. Mr. Tidwell was a farmer, also an old resident of the community, and leaves a wife and several small children.

This morning at Oxford, Mr. J. E. Charles went out to his barn and seeing a gun in the bed of the wagon, took hold of the muzzle to draw it out. The hammer caught and caused the gun to explode, the .2-caliber bullet entering the pit of his stomach and passing through his body. This happened about 10 o'clock. Dr. E. Van Hood was telegraphed for and went down this noon to render such aid as he could. The occurrence is deeply deplored, as Mr. Charles was one of the most successful business men of the place and none did more to promote the material welfare of Oxford than he.—Ocala Star, 6th.

During the thunder storm of Sunday afternoon a herd of cows belonging to H. A. Braddock were grazing in a pasture at Allapattah when one of them was struck by lightning. The bolt struck the cow on the back and she fell to the ground without a kick. After the rain stopped someone went out to the dead animal and found that the flash of lightning had split the cow's backbone from end to end. The cut was made as clean as if made by a butcher's saw and must have caused death to the animal instantly. The cow was a valuable one and was quite a loss to Mr. Braddock. So far as is known this is the only life lost by the lightning in this section of the country.—Miami News-Record.

There is manifested a general revival of the orange-growing industry in the Indian river section of Florida, and especially in the famous Turnbull hammock, near Titusville. Large plantings of young trees are progressing and the favorable conditions of climate, as well as the demand for the fruit, has induced many old growers to restock and revive generally their old groves, and to add new trees to new lands. The mildness of the weather this past winter has proven a great stimulus to the growers, and it will not be a great while ere Florida fruit will again be on the market by the million boxes. There are just twice as many good oranges grown this season as last.—Titusville Star.

A dispatch to The Tampa Times from Green Springs says: "T. Roy Young, the popular proprietor of the Bayshore Hotel here, had a narrow escape from death Sunday. While fishing with several other people in the bay a short distance from Safety Harbor, he came in contact with a large stingaree, which drove its sting into the side of his left foot, where it broke off. Mr. Young, in great pain, was assisted back to the hotel and put to bed. Dr. Green was called in and extracted the dangerous sting. He found that the fish had driven its weapon to the bone of Mr. Young's foot. Mr. Young suffered a great deal of pain, but applications made it easier and he is now getting along nicely.—St. Petersburg Independent.

The unhidden wealth and resources of Florida have been discovered in the form of petroleum, nine miles south of here on the plantation of John Brock, near the famous old Orange Hill postoffice. This great discovery will mark the epoch of developing one of the largest oil fields in the South. The oil shale is seventy-two feet thick on the top and burns like pine tar. A chemical analysis of a sample of the oil shows that it is of the very highest grade of petroleum, and within a few months the oil region will be densely populated with workers at the oil wells and derricks. Work of drilling for oil is progressing rapidly and the well has now reached a depth of over 900 feet and the work will not be completed until the well has attained a depth of 3,000 feet. The company in charge of the operations have the latest improved rotary drilling rig and outfit, built in Beaumont, Tex. The work is in charge of Charley Smith, a Texas ranger, who is thoroughly experienced in the oil-drilling business and competent in every way to push the work through to a successful conclusion. Mr. Smith is highly elated over the prospects and is entirely satisfied with the progress thus far made and is confident that he will get a gusher in the Land of Flowers that will be a financial blessing to that section of the State.—Chipley Correspondent of Times-Union.

Italian Admits Chopping Off Man's Head at Mobile, Ala.

Mobile, Ala., July 7.—A Birmingham, Ala., special says:

Joe Hinson, the Italian who chopped off the head of Charles S. Bassford with an ax at East Lake Saturday, was captured by special Officer W. A. Crawford in the woods near Irondale. He at first resisted arrest but when captured frankly admitted his crime.

"I killed him," he said, "and I would do it again."

He claims Bassford had threatened his life and he had to kill him to save himself. The crime was committed while Bassford was in bed asleep. Hinson dealt two blows in the neck with a large ax, practically severing the head from the body.
